NUMBER 932-0502 GRANT :X: LOAN : :	NEW : : CONTINUING :X:	PRIOR REFERENCE Centrally Funded Data Base, page 87	INITIAL OBLIGATION FY 68	ESTIMATED FINAL OBLIGATION FY N/A	ESTIMATED COMPLETION DATE OF PROJECT FY Continuing

Purpose: To improve program development, project design and implementation of population/family planning in less developed countries (LDCs) and to provide essential family planning services and resources which cannot be provided under other projects.

Background and Progress to date: This project provides a means of financing technical expertise and goods and services needed to design and develop projects, to improve the management and implementation of on-going projects, and to provide supportive training, supplies, equipment and consultants for LDC activities in population and family planning. To date, consultants have been provided to meet requests for technical assistance from more than 50 less developed countries. Specific technical assistance activities include the following: assessments of national family planning programs; evaluations of contraceptive distribution systems and family planning data systems (service statistics reporting and contraceptive commodity flows); development/improvement of family planning management information and management logistics systems; special training workshops for LDC supply personnel to improve the efficiency and accountability of in-country commodity distribution networks; analysis of the health and demographic impact of family planning activities and fertility control behavior; design, implementation, and analysis of contraceptive prevalence surveys; and collection and assessment of data on adolescent fertility. Additional resources provided include medical instruments and kits; contraceptive commoditites such as foaming tablets and books, publications and training materials. Other types of goods and services have also been provided in support of population/family planning programs.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries may provide local personnel, facilities, transportation and selected in-kind inputs to assist the consultants.

Benficiaries: Beneficiaries vary greatly due to the nature of the project. They include LDC personnel worldwide who receive technical assistance in developing, managing and evaluating family planning service programs; family planning mangers and technicians who receive equipment, training materials, and up-to-date information on family planning activities; and poor rural and urban fertile-age couples who will benefit from access to improved family planning programs.

FY 86 Program: In response to worldwide ad hoc requests, the project will finance the costs of short-term consultants to work on project design, evaluations, analysis of operational problems, implementation of recommendations, workshops and special training programs. Other services and resources, such as commodities, supplies and equipment, will be provided in support of population/family planning programs on request from the field.

Major Outputs: Major outputs include improved program design and development implementation and evaluation of population/family planning activities; expansion of contraceptive distribution networks including improved logistics management and service statistics, as well as trained supply personnel; special population reports and program studies; conferences, on-site observation visits, and workshops to promote population/family planning programs; and supplies, equipment and publications.

Purpose: To test, assess and improve fertility regulation technologies and to disseminate information on their safety, effectiveness, and acceptablity.

Background and Progress to Date: This project: (1) conducts comparative clinical trials on safety and efficacy of various fertility control methods under local conditions; (2) trains overseas clinicians in fertility control techniques; (3) collects, analyzes and disseminates data findings on fertility control; (4) establishes national fertility research programs; (5) provides limited equipment and supplies of new contraceptives technology; (6) assesses impact of fertility control modalites and delivery systems, and (7) conducts epidemiologic safety studies of fertility control methods. Clinical trials of new and improved means of fertility control have been carried out at more than 200 centers in nearly 50 countries. This project has documented the comparative safety, efficacy, and acceptability in different LDC settings of methods such as minilap and laparoscopic sterilization, postpartum IUDs and various barrier contraceptives. Several national fertility programs have been established with the capability to conduct their own research studies (e.g. Bangladesh, Egypt, Indonesia, Sri Lanka, Tunisia, Malaysia and Sudan). Project activities have included technology transfer and related training, support of the International Journal of Gynecology and Obstetrics and extensive maternity care monitoring studies. The project also publishes Network, a quarterly newsletter on family health.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries provide local support costs; other donors, including the Population Council, the United Nations Fund for Population Activities, the Mellon Foundation and the National Institutes of Health provide coordinated funds for research.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries are the users of methods developed and introduced by this program.

FY 84 Program: Continue to strengthen program of worldwide field testing and analysis of new fertility control methods, with emphasis on: barrier methods, microencapsulated injectable contraceptives, long-acting implants, postpartum IUDs, techniques for non-surgical female sterilization and comparative trials on side effects of oral contraceptives. Other priorities include: the establishment of national fertility research programs, training and commodity support, studies of user specific variables, evaluation of family planning programs, and epidemiologic studies of fertility control technologies. A major emphasis will be on natural family planning, including ovulation detection, fertility awareness and breastfeeding.

Purpose: To develop new and improved methods of fertility control especially appropriate for use in less developed countries.

Background and Progress to Date: The Program for Applied Research on Fertility Regulation (PARFR), provides scientific, technical and financial assistance to United States and foreign institutions for applied research projects to develop safe, effective and acceptable methods of fertility regulation. Project activities have been undertaken in the following areas: male and female sterilization techniques (including non-surgical procedures); drugs which inhibit ovulation; new long-acting delivery systems for contraceptives for women and men; intrauterine, intravaginal and barrier methods; new pharmacological methods for females and males; immunocontraception and natural family planning; and scientific workshops, seminars and publications. The techniques and methods developed in this program are being introduced into family planning centers worldwide for further testing (e.g. microencapsulated long-acting steroidal contraceptives and methods of non-surgical sterilization) and some have already been approved for sale (e.g. collagen sponge). The workshops' proceedings and other publications have been widely distributed. Studies have been carried out in Brazil, Chile, Egypt, Guatemala, India, Korea, Mexico, Venezuela and other countries. As of FY 1983, more than 175 research or pilot projects were implemented and twelve workshops had been held.

Host Country and Other Donors: None

Beneficiaries: Beneficiaries are the users of methods developed and introduced by the program, and more directly, the collaborating family planning clinical and research investigators/institutions.

FY 86 Program: The program will continue to support applied research for fertility regulation, as well as workshops and publications. There will be increased emphasis on collaborative clinical research in developing countries with development of a small, highly research-oriented clinical network. In addition, a research review will be issued regularly to disseminate findings. At least two workshops will be conducted and assistance will be provided to several international meetings, 20 or more studies will be funded, new areas for research will be investigated, e.g., immunocontraception and natural family planning, and small highly specific research meetings on single topics will be held.

Purpose: To train LDC physicians and nurses in reproductive health.

Background and Progress to Date: Since 1973, The Johns Hopkins Program for International Education in Gynecology and Obstetrics (JHPIEGO) has trained physicians from LDC medical schools and teaching hospitals in the broad field of reproductive health. Since 1976, medical administrators and nursing faculty have also been included. JHPIEGO training now primarily takes place in LDCs where sufficient numbers of JHPIEGO-trained physicians have become available. OB/GYN leaders from more than ten countries comprise an advisory committee which meets annually to provide program guidance. JHPIEGO courses deal with maternal and infant care, high risk pregnancy, infertility, contraception, cancer screening, voluntary sterilization and the use and care of special instruments such as laparoscopes. Formal JHPIEGO training programs are ongoing in Thailand, Tunisia, Colombia, Sierra Leone, Philippines, Brazil, Kenya, Nigeria, Somalia, Mexico, Turkey, Morocco, Egypt, Indonesia and Sudan. JHPIEGO has established agreements whereby clinical practice for trainees is provided at 40 sites in more than 15 countries. The Tunisian program alone trains physicians from more than 15 francophone countries of Africa. All JHPIEGO trainees who qualify are supplied with appropriate surgical equipment. An ongoing program of equipment maintenance is also provided. JHPIEGO trainees come from more than 100 countries and JHPIEGO-trained faculty members are now teaching in more than 335 LDC medical schools. Short practical reproductive health courses for medical and nursing students are also established in LDC universities. An extensive management audit was completed in 1980 and an intensive evaluation of the program was conducted in January 1981. An external management review was completed in 1983.

Host Country and other Donors: Host country governments, universities and other agencies provide facilities, administrative and teaching staff, work space, utilities and other support. In Korea, all training costs have been taken over locally. In Pakistan, other donors support the full costs of the JHPIEGO program. In many countries, JHPIEGO supplies only equipment and consultant trainers. In Morocco, JHPIEGO shares program costs with the USAID Mission, other donors and the Ministry of Health. Funds from several foundations enable JHPIEGO to cover some training costs not covered by A.I.D. funding. Most JHPIEGO programs are closely coordinated with other A.I.D.-funded agencies and with most Ministries of Health.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries are poor rural and urban couples in more than 90 developing countries.

FY 86 Program: JHPIEGO reproductive health training in Baltimore will be confined to special fields such as endoscopy, infertility, reversal procedures and program administration. Most JHPIEGO training will be in the LDCs. New national training programs are being planned for Haiti, Peru, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Bolivia, Honduras, Liberia, Rwanda, Burundi, Cameroon and the Central African Republic. JHPIEGO support to these programs includes teaching materials, consultants, tuition, special surgical equipment and help in repair and maintenance.

Purpose: To increase understanding of policy implications of determinants of fertility and to identify government actions, in addition to family planning, that will encourage lower fertility.

Background and Progress to Date: This project sponsors research studies leading to the development of government policies and programs, including family planning, that will encourage lower fertility. The project is composed of three major elements: 1) the review of current knowledge on fertility determinants and identification of the most promising areas for fertility determinants research; 2) solicitation and funding of studies in identified areas; and 3) an enhanced capacity to respond to and administer unsolicited proposals from USAID Missions on fertility determinants research. In 1979, the National Academy of Sciences (NAS), Committee for Population and Demography, formed a panel of recognized fertility experts and scholars which completed the identification of areas for needed research based on its review of current knowledge. The second element incorporates these areas in an awards program at the Population Council which solicits and funds promising new research. The Population Council provides technical assistance in the design and implementation of projects, assures adherence to the highest scientific standards, directs research results toward the appropriate audience of policy makers, and encourages the strengthening of local research institutions. The third part of this project is comprised of applied research efforts such as the law and development policy project of Columbia University.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries will provide some government researchers and data. Other donors may provide funding for additional phases of the studies.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are host country planners and donor agency officials who gain information on ways in which development programs can encourage lower fertility. This project will have the secondary impact of benefiting local research institutions.

FY 86 Program: In FY 1986, no new research studies will be undertaken. Activities will concentrate on monitoring research and dissemination of completed research projects. Under a new project, Population Policy Initiatives (936-3035), the research awards program, the population law and development policy project, as well as support for unsolicited, high priority research initiatives will be continued.

Purpose: To support participant training in the United States for key population/family planning (POP/FP) personnel from less developed countries where no other A.I.D. financing resource exists.

Background and Progress to Date: These funds have been useful in increasing understanding and professionalism among POP/FP personnel in less developed countries in the areas of demography, maternal/child health, population education and management of family planning related programs. These resources are made available to LDCs where there are no U.S. bilateral activities, where existing U.S. field missions have no other funds to finance U.S. training, or where the host countries are unable to finance the training. Continuing post-training assessments of the participants indicate that their newly acquired knowledge and skills are being utilized and that they are very often assuming more responsible positions.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries provide salaries for the trainee and may provide health examinations and/or air fare.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are managers, supervisors and implementors of LDC POP/FP programs. At least 60% of all selected participants will be from LDC non-governmental organizations. Ultimate beneficiaries include LDC reproductive-age couples who will receive improved FP and maternal/child health services.

FY 1986 Program: Funds will provide an estimated 250 weeks of training to 30 POP/FP participants from 15-20 LDCs. The training programs will concentrate on POP/FP management, population education and maternal/child health/family planning. Priority will be given to participants from the Africa region to receive training under this project.

Purpose: To introduce voluntary family planning services, information and training into LDC areas lacking them, and to make existing family planning service systems more effective in both public and private sectors.

Background and Progress to Date: The Pathfinder Fund is a Boston-based, nonprofit organization incorporated in 1957 to encourage and initiate family planning programs worldwide with emphasis in the LDC's. Pathfinder grants to LDC institutions are typically less than $75,000 and are intended to foster the introduction or integration of family planning information and services in programs and areas where they do no currently exists. By virtue of its private status and its strong support from A.I.D., the Pathfinder Fund is able to respond with unusual speed as needs and opportunities arise for family planning programs in LDC's. Since A.I.D. support began in 1968, Pathfinder has sponsored over 1,200 projects in 85 countries. Pathfinder's pioneering work has led to the establishment of national family planning associations in many Asian and African countries. At present, Pathfinder is supporting over 85 projects in 26 countries and is providing training awards and commodity grants in over 60 countries. The projects include activities in community-based contraceptive distribution programs, voluntary sterilization training and services, and the introduction of family planning services to women's development projects. A program evaluation is scheduled for FY 86.

Host Country and Other Donors: The projects sponsored by the Pathfinder Fund are coordinated with the activities of USAID bilateral missions and other donors including the United Nations Fund for Population Activities, the International Planned Parenthood Federation, Family Planning International Assistance, and other funding agencies. The Pathfinder Fund encourages its grantees to share local project costs to the maximum extent possible and actively solicits private donations to help finance its overseas programs.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries consist of the rural and urban poor who will have access to comprehensive family planning information and services as a result of Pathfinder-sponsored projects. To date, over 3 million couples have been newly served by Pathfinder activities in the developing world.

FY 86 Program: Pathfinder will support approximately 120 projects in 35 countries. Program emphasis will be on community-based service programs (20 projects); training of paramedical personnel to provide family planning services (10 projects); improvement of delivery systems for clinical family planning services, including voluntary sterilization (25 projects); training of pharmaceutical personnel (7 projects); incorporation of family planning services in women's programs (24 projects); support for population policy programs (24 projects); and project-support workshops and training grants (10 projects). Program emphasis will continue to shift toward new initiatives in the African and Near East regions while maintaining program momentum in Latin America and Asia. To accomplish these activities A.I.D. will contribute $8 million in grant funds and will provide contraceptives worth approximately $2.8 million.

Purpose: To support the improvement and expansion of population/family planning programs of the International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF) and its network of family planning associations (FPAs) and affiliates in less developed countries.

Background and Progress to Date: IPPF has programs in over 90 countries which are supported by funds provided by A.I.D. and other donors. In many of these countries, IPPF has verified a latent demand for family planning and now many governments' service programs are supplanting IPPF pioneering efforts. The IPPF affiliates are working to: (1) initiate services where no A.I.D. bilateral programs are providing family planning; (2) develop quality delivery systems; (3) integrate family planning into existing service systems; (4) demonstrate the effectiveness of community-based distribution of contraceptives; and (5) broaden the education, information, and service systems to assure that a wide range of appropriate methods and education approaches are available to meet family planning needs. Recent initiatives include voluntary sterilization programs, improved grassroots participation in policy and programming, and projects to improve the status of women. U.S. contributions are predicated upon annual evaluation of (1) IPPF performance, (2) program plans for the following year, and (3) satisfactory resolution of A.I.D. audit issues. Particular attention is given to annual questionnaire responses from A.I.D. field potential.

Host Country and Other Donors: Other governments, including United Kingdom, Australia, Sweden, Denmark and Japan and over ten private donors, including the Draper World Population Association and the Family Planning Association of Canada, provide more than 70% of the program support costs. In addition, nonmonetary local contributions are often received by IPPF member associations in the form of tax exemptions, free office and clinic space, free publicity, voluntary professional services, etc.

Beneficiaries: The beneficiaries are urban and rural poor where IPPF programs are being implemented, as well as host governments which gain knowledge and expertise from IPPF pilot programs.

FY 86 Program: Major efforts include: expanded community-based contraceptive distribution; information and education, especially for medical and clinical activities; training; women's projects; innovative information and services delivery systems; project-related research; and dissemination of current medical and educational information.

Purpose: To extend the availability of Family Planning Services through existing Medical and Welfare Institutions of developing countries.

Background and Progress to Date: Family Planning International Assistance (FPIA) was organized in 1971 as the international assistance division of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America. In selecting and funding developing country programs, FPIA stresses innovative, cost-effective, low-technology programs which have a good chance of continuing after the end of FPIA support. FPIA support is directed primarily to non-government institutions and is designed to encourage integration of family planning into other activities such as maternal/child health and women's church programs. To date, FPIA has supported 348 projects in 51 countries. It currently assists 113 projects in 37 countries and provides contraceptive commodities to Health/Family Planning programs in 69 additional countries. An estimated 3.5 million family planning clients are currently being served by FPIA assisted projects. A worldwide evaluation of the FPIA Program is scheduled for FY 1985. It will be conducted by an external evaluation team provided under a separate contract with a centrally-funded AID population/health organization.

Host Country and Other Donors: Project assistance is coordinated closely with other international donors, including International Planned Parenthood Federation, Church World Services and other non-government donor agencies. FPIA encourages recipient institutions to share program costs such as personnel, facilities and administrative expenses to facilitate continuation of the project after the end of FPIA support.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries are the rural and urban poor in less developed countries who do not have alternative access to affordable, routinely available family planning information and services.

FY 86 Program: FPIA will support approximately 120 projects in 38 countries. Program emphasis will be on establishment of community-based distribution programs (35 projects); increased participation and impact of women (30 projects) and young adults (10 projects); physician training (20 projects); expanded use of para-professionals and village level people as family planning agents (15 projects); and Natural Family Planning (10 projects).

Purpose: To make high-quality voluntary sterilization (VS) services available as an integral part of LDC health and family planning programs.

Background and Progress to Date: The International Project of the Association for Voluntary Sterilization (AVS) was created in 1972 to advance availability of VS to requesting couples as a normal component of public health and family planning services. At the end of 1983, AVS was assisting over 93 projects in 40 countries with service delivery, information, paramedic and physician training, equipment, equipment repair, and/or development of national leadership groups. Forty-four national associations are involved a world federation. AVS has assisted Korea, Taiwan, Philippines, Thailand, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Egypt, Tunisia, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Colombia and Jamaica in their expansion from limited to nationwide VS services. An external evaluation in late 1979 reported that AVS is continuing to perform in a superior manner. The next such evaluation is scheduled for June 1985. Demand for VS services is increasing rapidly in LDCs as safe, inexpensive techniques are introduced on an outpatient basis.

Host Country and Other Donors: In most countries, host governments share projects costs, although attainment of the goal of self-sustaining programs depends on the respective country's economic conditions. Many projects have complementary, coordinated inputs from one or more other donors.

Beneficiaries: LDC couples with complete families who seek a method of permanent contraception for reasons of health and family well-being.

FY 86 Program: Continue services, training, information, and equipment support in about 45 countries; assist pilot demonstration projects in at least 5 new countries, prinicipally in Africa; expand number of equipment repair/maintenance centers to about 15 countries; support development of World Federation of (national) Associations for VS role as the major international source of expertise on VS and foster creation of leadership groups in additional countries.

Purpose: To strengthen the capacity of developing country statistical and population institutions to process, evaluate and analyze demographic and family planning data as well as other social and economic data which, in turn, will help promote greater understanding of population and development relationships.

Background and Progress to Date: The project responds to the continuing, critical need among LDCs to improve the institutional capacity for processing and analyzing statistical data which are essential for effective planning, implementation and assessment of population and development programs. Major components of the project are 1) technical assistance to LDC statistical institutions for data entry, editing, tabulation, and analysis, 2) short-term training workshops for LDC technicians and analysts on mapping, census design, data processing software and data analysis, and 3) compilation, analysis and dissemination of data to provide a continuous flow of accurate and timely data which are used in program and project planning, implementation and evaluation. A part of the technical assistance component will involve transfer of micro-computer technology to a limited number of countries for use in data processing and analysis by statistical institutions. During FY 1983, four regional workshops were conducted under this project in Africa, training more than 100 participants in the skills of planning and implementing national censuses, processing and analyzing demographic data. Country-specific training and technical assistance were provided to a number of countries in Asia, Africa, Near East and Latin America for installation of software and implementation of surveys, and analysis of data. The 15th Summer Seminar in Population was held at the East-West Population Institute attracting about sixty professionals from Asian/Pacific countries expanding their knowledge in areas of fertility estimation, factors affecting fertility regulations, interactions of socioeconomic development with mortality transition, and urbanization and development planning.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries will carry some costs for training and personnel in data processing and analysis techniques and for conducting in-country analyses of the data.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries are LDC statistical and population institutions, specifically personnel responsible for the analysis, evaluation and use of demographic data. In addition, accurate and timely demographic and statistical data will be more readily available for use by policy makers and planners and will help increase the effectiveness of LDC efforts to improve the standard of living of the poor, who are the ultimate beneficiaries.

FY 86 Program: Project activities during this period will include: 1) provision of technical assistance for processing and/or analyzing demographic data; implementation of country-specific and regional workshops to present data-processing and analysis methods; and continued compilation, analysis, and dissemination of demographic data. Up to 8 developing countries, half of which are in Africa, are expected to receive assistance through this project. Included among the target countries are Cameroon, Kenya, Liberia, Mali, Nigeria, Somalia, Sudan, Ecuador, Guatemala, Peru, Egypt, Morocco, Burma, India, Nepal, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, and Thailand.

Purpose: To develop effective information and education (IE) programs in direct support of selected LDC population and family planning (FP) service delivery programs.

Background and Progress to Date: Although many LDC couples are aware of the concept of family planning, they lack sufficient information to decide when or whether to practice family planning and which method is most appropriate for them. This project provides country-specific assistance in the following: (1) identification of information and education (IE) needs of family planning programs; (2) marketing and audience surveys; (3) design, implementation and assessment of activities. These activities may range from small-scale studies to test effective IE methods; to larger-scale informational campaigns; development, pretesting, revision and production of materials; measurement and evaluation of effectiveness of IE programs; and inter-country exchange and adaptation of IE methods and materials. The project emphasizes the use of LDC public and private sector organizations engaged in information and education, and the development of IE planning and implementation capability in LDC institutions. The U.S. prime contractor, working with three U.S. subcontractors, is assisting up to 35 LDCs in strengthening their communications support for population and family planning service delivery programs. Through this project, translation and copies of existing materials and films that have been shown to be effective are being provided as needed and requested for population IE programs.

Host Country and Other Donors: LDC broadcast and film media are owned mostly by government and/or public corporations. Host countries are being encouraged to contribute free airtime on publicly owned stations and to contribute facilities and staff time. Other donor agencies will be invited to participate in joint projects. These include UNFPA, UNESCO, FPIA, IPPF, Pathfinder and certain regional IEC organizations not currently finded by A.I.D.

Beneficiaries: The immediate beneficiaries are the LDC Population/Family Planning service organizations with rural outreach programs and established delivery facilities which will serve fertile-aged couples. Ultimately, these couples will benefit from improvements in health and welfare.

FY 86 Program: FY 1986 finds will continue to be directed toward project implementation, mounting informational and educational activities to support country FP programs, designing IE materials, providing technical assistance and evaluating results.

Purpose: To support the Population Council's activities in biomedical research, social science research, operational research, training, and dissemination of information; to provide technical and financial assistance to the Tunisian national family planning program.

Background and Progress to Date: The Population Council is an international scientifc and professional, non-government, non-profit institution established in 1952. A.I.D. has drawn on The Council's resources and specialized expertise since 1965 to work towards the Agency's population program objectives by funding the Council to carry out A.I.D.-designed projects or by supporting selected elements of the Council's ongoing program.

Recently, A.I.D. funds have been used to support partial cost of a contraceptive vaginal ring, studies of LHRH analogs, and clinical testing of the Levonorgestrel IUD and subdermal contraceptive implants; a variety of country-specific subprojects in approaches to family planning (including Natural Family Planning), population and development interactions, and strengthening professional resources; and continued outreach to professionals and wider public audiences through Council publications.

Host Country and Other Donors: The Population Council receives funds from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), other governments, international agencies, foundations and private individuals. LDC governments and institutions provide personnel, office space and administrative support.

Beneficiaries: The Council research and demonstration activities benefit local clientele, generally urban and rural poor. Other activities benefit the general population/family planning movement and the results are disseminated to population professionals by Council publications.

FY 86 Program: Increased emphasis will be given to research on new contraceptive development and field trials of new contraceptives. Additional programmatic activities will be undertaken in project development, subgrants to local institutions, technical assistance, and program evaluation, particularly in sub-Saharan Africa. The Tunisia subproject will continue to be supported to help the government of Tunisia strengthen and expand family planning services primarily in rural and semi-urban areas.

Purpose: To raise awareness of LDC leadership of the basic relationship between population growth and development and to examine population and family planning issues which affect or are affected by development objectives.

Background and Progress to Date: This project is an innovative approach to population policy based on the lessions learned from the AID-sponsored RAPID and PDP projects. These projects, during a five-year period, completed operations in over 30 LDCs. The ways in which population growth affects socio-economic development are demonstrated by country, regional and sector-specific analysis using computer simulation techniques, institution building, technology transfer, and intensified training. Collaboration with host country officials in project activities is key and accomplished through several site visits to each country. Presentations are made for: 1) LDC government and non-government leaders, 2) U.S. country teams, enabling both AID Mission and Embassy staff to understand the relationship between population and other sectors of responsibility in order to facilitate discussion of these interrelations with host country counterparts, 3) AID and State staff in Washington, increasing their awareness of population/development relationships, and 4) international groups, agencies and organizations. Microcomputers and appropriate software systems will be installed in selected LDCs where their continued use will further increase the understanding of population factors in development planning. In addition, private and public sector planners will be brought together to prepare population policy analyses tailored to meet national needs. These analyses and their implications will be presented to the highest echelons of government via a series of training workshops and seminars.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries provide government participants and trainees and in some cases, local facilities and services.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are the host country officials who gain awareness of the links between national interests and the development restraints related to population growth. Ultimate beneficiaries are the recipients of family planning services and other appropriately designed and implemented economic and social services developed by the country officials.

FY 86 Program: The contractors will develop new country-specific analyses, update existing analyses, present the analyses to highest level officials, prepare policy analyses, and conduct training workshops and seminars.

Purpose: To provide contraceptives for centrally funded population/family planning programs and to serve as a central account to which all funds for the procurement of contraceptives for bilateral programs are transferred.

Background and Progress to Date: This project was initiated in FY 1981. Current procedures call for bilateral funds for contraceptive purchases to be transferred at the beginning of the fiscal year to the central account. This provides for the consolidation of funds to finance a combined procurement of these products. By consolidating purchases under one centralized system and encouraging competition among U.S. suppliers of contraceptives, the U.S. Government has benefitted through substantial cost savings. For example, the FY 1983 award prices for standard-dose and low-dose contraceptives were 12 cents per cycle and 10.7 cents per cycle, respectively. These are the lowest prices ever paid by A.I.D. for oral contraceptives. Likewise, the FY 1983 contract award price for Copper-T IUDs was 70 cents per unit, the same price the Agency paid for its first purchase of Copper-T IUD's in FY 1979. The FY 1982 price was 83.5 cents per unit. Finally, $4.30 per 100 condoms represented a saving of 35 cents cents per 100 condoms from the FY 1982 price. Under this project, A.I.D. has been able to respond to developing countries' needs for contraceptives to support family planning services programs.

Host Country and Other Donors: Not applicable

Beneficiaries: Low-income couples in developing countries who voluntarily choose to plan their families.

FY 86 Program: Contraceptives will be supplied to centrally-funded C.R.S. projects and approximately 300 grantee sub-projects.

Purpose: To conduct sample surveys of contraceptive knowledge, availability, and use and/or recent demographic levels and trends.

Background: Effective management of population programs requires a regular flow of timely and reliable data on levels and trends of contraceptive knowledge, availability and use. Information on births and deaths is also needed to measure the impact and cost-effectiveness of family planning and MCH efforts. In previous years A.I.D., through its support of the World Fertility Survey, Contraceptive Prevalence Survey, and Birth and Death Data Collection projects, was a leader in supporting sample surveys to provide this needed information. The Family Health and Demographic Surveys project continues the most important functions of these earlier projects. The primary objectives of this project are to (a) provide financial and technical support to developing countries in conducting family health and/or demographic surveys, (b) disseminate survey results quickly to policymakers and family planning program adminstrators, and (c) strengthen institutional capabilities in host countries for undertaking future surveys of this type.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries will provide at least 20-25% of local survey costs and will assume major responsibility for survey implementation.

Beneficiaries: Data generated by this project will be used by LDC governments to evaluate recent family planning and demographic levels and trends, and to improve programs for providing family planning and MCH services to the poor.

FY 86 Program: Continue the design and testing of survey methodology in close consultation with A.I.D. Coordinate correspondence and/or site visits to prospective participating countries. Begin sample surveys in approximately ten LDCs. Complete surveys begun in previous years.

Purpose: To improve the effectiveness of population programs by providing short-term technical assistance services.

Background and Progress to Date: Technical assistance is a particularly important component of population programs, but the demand for specialized assistance has always exceeded A.I.D.'s in-house capabilities. To address this deficiency, A.I.D. established in 1970 a program to deliver essential technical expertise on a short-term basis to support our population programs throughout the world. Through this program, over 18,000 person days of expert consultant services have been provided to date to maintain the high technical standards of our programs.

The need for these services has not lessened over the years. The growing number of new country programs and the greater sophistication of mature programs has continued to increase the demand for technical assistance. A follow-on project started in FY 1984.

The Population Technical Assistance Project provides worldwide short-term consulting services to public and private sector institutions to improve the design, implementation and management of population programs. The project provides professional consultants in response to specific requests for technical assistance in a broad spectrum of disciplines involving demography, population policy, maternal and child health care, information, education and communication, fiscal management, medical science, training, administration, marketing, evaluation, logistics, and related fields. The consultants assigned by A.I.D. to work through this project are drawn from international agencies, from academic institutions, from profit-making and non-profit corporations, and from private life.

Host Country and Other Donors: None.

Beneficiaries: The beneficiaries are the people of the developing countries who acquire access to family planning information and services as a result of the activities of this project.

FY 86 Program: The project will provide approximately 2000 person-days of short term technical advisory services in project design, management and evaluation for population and family planning programs in the developing world.

Purpose: To strengthen the technical capacity of development planning institutions to understand implications of rapid population growth for achieving development goals and to incorporate population variables into development planning models.

Background and Progress to Date: The Integrated Population Development Planning (INPLAN) project, 936-3027, is an innovative approach to population policy based on the experience of the AID-funded Integrated Population Development Planning (IPDP) project, 932-0655. The general strategy employed in the IPDP project is carried forward in the INPLAN project. The INPLAN project will strengthen capabilities of LDC planning institutions to analyze population-development links, to monitor population growth, to evaluate the implications of population growth, and to communicate these implications to policy-makers and other technical and non-technical audiences. The project will provide this institution-building support through training, technical assistance, and research support activities. The project will focus on about twenty LDCs and respond to ad hoc requests from other countries, as appropriate. The project will provide US-based, short-term training to mid- to high-level planners; sponsor in-country training seminars and workshops for planners; conduct interregional conferences on population-development planning; develop general planning models for use on microcomputers; and support planning-related research projects which address population-development issues of special concern to the host country.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries provide planning personnel and, as appropriate, local facilities and services.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are development planning institutions that gain skills and tools for population-development planning. Secondary beneficiaries are government decision-makers who can formulate policies that are based on sound projections of population growth and refined estimates of future requirements of a growing population. Ultimate beneficiaries are recipients of voluntary family planning services and other economic and social services initiated by informed government policies.

FY 1986 Program: The contractor will undertake five project development activities, will support short-term US-based training for fifteen planners, will conduct ten training seminars, will develop two general planning models and will adapt models to eight countries. Participating countries include Nigeria, Rwanda, Senegal, Somalia, Sudan, Zimbabwe, Morocco, Yemen, Burma, Pakistan, Bolivia, Ecuador, and Honduras among others.

Purpose: To make family planning information and contraceptives more widely available to eligible couples in LDCs.

Background and Progress to Date: Contraceptive Social Marketing Programs have evolved from our experience with Commercial Retail Sales (CRS) programs. With AID support, CRS projects in a number of countries have demonstrated that contraceptive availability can be increased through private sector delivery systems. These projects also demonstrated that it was not enough just to supply the contraceptives through retail outlets. LDC couples also need better information on family planning options and techniques. Culturally-accepted advertising, marketing and consumer educational materials must support expanded distribution if our program goals of meeting the needs of unserved populations are to be met.

Under a previous project (Contraceptive Retail Sales #932-0611) A.I.D. contractors have assisted in the establishment of contraceptive retail sales projects in Bangladesh, Jamaica, Nepal, Ghana, Mexico, Honduras, Egypt, El Salvador, and Ecuador. On-going project development activities are currently being undertaken in the Caribbean, The Dominican Republic, Guatemala, and Costa Rica. In FY 1981 a cooperative agreement was implemented to facilitate information transfer among CRS projects, to provide technical assistance and subgrants for specific activities to graduate projects, and to develop/manage small-scale CRS activities in countries where the use of a separate U.S. contract organization with a resident long term technical advisor would be impractical. New procurement is planned for FY 84 to consolidate AID financial and technical imputs to CSM over the next five years.

Host Country and Other Donors: None, but income received from the sale of contraceptives will be used to defray a portion of program operating costs.

Beneficiaries: Those individuals who wish to determine the size and spacing of their families.

FY 86 Program: The program will support CSM activities in approximately 20 countries, including major projects in six countries, small grants in ten-to-twelve countries, and three to four special subprojects in countries with social marketing projects which are not A.I.D. supported.

Purpose: To improve, through operations research, the quality, accessibility and cost-effectiveness of family planning and maternal-child health (FP/MCH) delivery systems in the developing world; and to strengthen LDC institutional capabilities to use operations research as a management tool to diagnose and solve service delivery problems.

Background and Progress to Date: The operations research program addresses important needs of both policymakers and program managers seeking to improve the availability and effectiveness of family planning and basic health delivery systems. This program also provides funding and/or technical assistance for evaluating innovative service delivery systems in developing countries. Projects focus on the development of cost-effective delivery systems. In the initial program 85 projects have been started in 32 countries. Nearly half of the ongoing projects have a health and/or nutrition component. Health components focus on maternal and child health, e.g., oral rehydration therapy; immunization and anti-parasite drugs for young children; iron supplementation and tetanus toxoid immunization for pregnant women; and vitamin and mineral supplementation for lactating women. To date, results are available from 45 projects. The projects have demonstrated that substantial increases in contraceptive prevalence are possible through alternative service delivery strategies. The cost-effectiveness of family planning programs has been improved by empirical testing of different delivery strategies. A broader mix of contraceptives has been shown to lead to higher contraceptive prevalence. The addition of health interventions to family planning programs does not improve contraceptive acceptance. Outside experts have conducted in-depth evaluations of the operations research program and the principal contractors.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries provide training and storage facilities, part of local salary cost, office space, selected commodities, data processing, and, in most cases, transportation. Limited support from other donors.

Beneficiaries: The project will benefit over 50 million persons in developing countries served by delivery systems in which the project operates; beneficiaries are rural and urban poor. The project will also improve the management skills of family planning/health program administrators in developing countries.

FY 86 Program: Major recipient countries will include Bangladesh, Bolivia, Brazil, Burundi, English-speaking Caribbean, Colombia, Haiti, Kenya, Mexico, Morocco, Nepal, Nigeria, Peru, Philippines, Senegal, Somalia, Sri Lanka, Sudan, Thailand, Togo, Upper Volta, Yemen and Zimbabwe. A.I.D.-funded elements of the project's activities will include: contraceptives and other basic health items, consultants, data collection, and FP/MCH and logistics training.

Purpose: To strengthen the capacity of LDC institutions to design, implement and evaluate family planning training activities for paramedical, auxiliary and community (PAC) workers.

Background and Progress to Date: Family planning service delivery systems in developing countries need substantial numbers of trained workers to provide safe, reliable, accessible services to individuals and couples at the community level. The numbers required, as well as the need to incorporate changes in technologies and training methodologies into existing training programs, make ongoing support of training activities vital.

PAC training was carried out from 1979-84 under the PAC I project (932-0644). That project focused on organizing and conducting training courses for large numbers of PAC workers in LDCs. This focus was essential to meet the immediate need in many countries for workers to provide family planning services.

This project, Family Planning Training for Paramedical, Auxiliary and Community (PAC) Personnel II, focuses on developing and implementing family planning training programs. PAC II seeks to strengthen the capabilities of in-country and regional institutions to provide training.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries may contribute funds for training facilities, in-country transportation, utilities, and salaries for local training personnel.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries will be trainers, faculty and administrators, managers and supervisors, direct service providers, and policymakers.

FY 86 Program:

Assistance includes institutional support; short-term technical assistance to provide specific technical expertise in on-going programs; and direct assistance in conducting training programs, assessing training results and incorporating the findings into subsequent courses. The project is designed to meet the family planning training needs of a variety of PAC workers in LDCs--including nurses, midwives, auxiliary and community workers, and other personnel. Types of assistance provided and personnel trained vary by geographic need.

Purpose: To improve less developed country (LDC) decision-making on population policy, programming and service delivery by regularly providing LDC government policy makers, program administrators, service providers, and medical educators with the latest authoritative population/family planning information.

Background and Progress to Date: LDC officials, donor and PVO family planning service providers, clinicians and program managers all need current, reliable information on population and family planning in order to make decisions on appropriate policies, program alternatives, health safeguards and allocation of limited resources. The relative newness of most programs, the desire to provide services on a national scale to hard-to-reach populations and the evolving nature of the technology itself, make such access to up-to-date, scientifically-sound information particularly important.

The Population Information Program is a key element in the transfer of technology and information dissemination efforts, and supports the collection and analysis of worldwide population information and its rapid diffusion among professionals, the public and government users working with or in the LDCs. The objectives of the project are (1) to provide the latest and most reliable scientific and medical, technical and legal, program design and management information available; and (2) to provide data (by country, region, donor/intermediary and funding period) which is of special interest to LDC program management personnel so that they have the accurate information needed to plan and operate individual or collaborative activities. To accomplish these objectives, there are the following outputs: (1) the publication and distribution of Population Reports, a series of monographs on key population and international health topics; (2) the maintenance of a comprehensive scientific, legal and technical computerized population information system; and (3) a Population Projects Database/Management Information System, which enables LDC leaders, A.I.D. intermediaries and donors to receive information by country, region, project and special interest.

Host Country and Other Donors:

A few countries are expected to provide data-gathering and dissemination assistance but no major financial support.

Beneficiaries:

Immediate beneficiaries will be government program leaders and policymakers; physicians and other health professionals; academicians; researchers; mass media communicators.

FY 1986 Program: Research, publish, translate and distribute six issues of Population Reports; provide information to researchers/professionals on population/family planning through the computerized database system, POPLINE; maintain an international mailing list of approximately 80,000 names and addresses; and provide information on the Population Projects Database to LDCs, other donors, and A.I.D.

Purpose: To assist developing countries with various aspects of their population/family planning activities, using the skills of recent U.S. graduates in population planning and related fields.

Background and Progress to Date: As developing countries increase their population activities, their need for technical skills in population and family planning also increases. At the same time, there are limited opportunities for recent U.S. graduates in population to acquire overseas field experience in order to complete their professional training for international careers.

The University Overseas Service Program (UOSP) meets the needs of developing countries and recent graduates by providing technical expertise and service from professionals who have recently completed advanced academic study in population and related health fields. It provides eight to ten internships per year for graduates in population policy, health education, other graduate health fields (e.g., nursing, midwifery), administration and management, evaluation, and other population-related areas. The internships are for 18 months to two years in LDC ministries of health, family planning agencies and other institutions and universities involved in population planning. The UOSP offers developing countries the knowledge and skills of these recently graduated professionals, while increasing the quantity and quality of professionals committed to careers in the international population area.

Approximately eight to ten persons per year will be trained over the five year period, up to a total of 40 interns.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are private and public LDC institutions involved in population and family planning programs.

Purpose: To expand Family Planning Services through the private sector in areas that do not currently have effective service delivery systems.

Background and Progress to Date: The project provides family planning services through private sector institutions in countries where family planning services are unavailable or inadequate to meet client demand.

The program seeks out volunteer private citizens, business and professional people, community leaders, non-family planning private voluntary organizations and for-profit organizations to serve as purveyors of family planning services. It transfers funds and technical assistance to create or strengthen delivery systems that provide services not readily available through public sector programs.

Assistance is designed primarily for AID priority countries in Africa, Latin America and Asia in which bilateral funding is scarce or non-existent and where opportunities are good to create or work with active local organizations. In selecting and funding developing country organizations, PSD stresses support for innovative, cost effective delivery systems that have a good chance of continuing after phase out of project funding. To do this, the project provides substantial technical assistance in institutionalizing new services so that dependency on donors does not become a permanent condition. The project is scheduled to begin in FY 1984.

Host Country and Other Donors: Project assistance is coordinated closely with other international donors, including Family Planning International Assistance (FPIA), the Pathfinder Fund (PF), the International Program for Voluntary Sterilization (IPAVS) and other non-government donor agencies. The PSD project encourages host country institutions to share program costs and to develop income-generation activities that will facilitate continuation of each project after the end of AID project assistance.

Beneficiaries: Project beneficiaries are urban and rural poor in less developed countries who do not have alternate access to affordable, routinely available, family planning information and services.

FY 86 Program: PSD will support approximately 7 ongoing and 3 new projects in 6 developing countries. Program emphasis will be on development of new federations and associations for private sector family planning programs (4 projects); establishment of community-based delivery systems (2 projects); implementation of social marketing demonstrations (2 projects); and technical assistance and training for improved program management (2 projects).

Purpose: To increase understanding of the determinants of fertility in developing countries, to identify the policy implications of the key determinants, and to disseminate the research findings and their policy implications to policy makers.

Background and Progress to Date: This project is a follow-on to Population Policy Research (932-0643) which supported policy activities and research leading to the development of government policies and programs, including family planning, that would encourage lower fertility. One component of the previous project yielded a report by the National Academy of Sciences reviewing current knowledge of fertility determinants and indicating the most promising areas for future research. The second component of the project has supported a research awards program on fertility determinants administered by the Population Council and through which over 25 projects have been funded with a large number involving developing country research institutions. Substantial technical assistance has been given to researchers and considerable emphasis is placed on dissemination of research results to policy makers. The third component of the project has funded unsolicited proposals including a population law and development policy project administered by Columbia University aimed at assisting policy makers to examine and formulate laws and policies on population. A project based on an unsolicited proposal entitled, "Multi-level Analysis for Planning: A Project to Merge Individual, Community and Program Characteristics to Study Variations in Family Planning Behavior" submitted by Westinghouse and the University of Michigan will also be carried out. The new project will again have several components: 1) the continuation of a competitive research awards program administered by the Population Council with emphasis on supporting initiatives by developing country institutions; 2) the continuation of the population law and development policy project carried out by Columbia University, and 3) support for unsolicited, high priority initiatives on population policy research.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries will provide some government policy makers, researchers and data. Other donors may provide funding for additional phases of the studies.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries are host country policy makers and planners and donor agency officials who gain information on ways in which development programs as well as laws and policies can encourage lower fertility. This project will have the secondary impact of benefiting local research and policy institutions.

FY 86 Program: This will be the first year of the follow-on project. Five research studies will be undertaken through the competitive awards program. Efforts will be made to solicit new proposals from developing countries. Technical assistance to researchers and monitoring of funded studies will provided. The population law and development policy project will be continued and will provide information and technical assistance to LDC law-makers on population law and policy.

Purpose: To provide training for developing country population professionals in information, education and communication (IEC), with a focus on developing IEC training capacities of African institutions.

Background and Progress to Date: There is an urgent need for IEC training to fill the gap which is widening in population program preparedness. Currently there are virtually no organized resources operating to train population/family planning IEC professionals. The technology of contraception and the science of management of family planning clinics in LDCs have advanced considerably in the previous decade. However, the design and implementation of media programs to reach people concerning the availability, desirability and choices involved in family planning have lagged behind.

Although one Office of Population program now addresses IEC needs in LDCs, there is no program to train IEC trainers and professionals so that IEC programs can be maintained and IEC training will become institutionalized.

The objectives of the Population IEC Training program are (1) to identify and collaborate with IEC professionals in Africa; (2) to collect and adapt for African use a wide variety of IEC population-related materials and training models; (3) to train in the U.S. approximately 60 IEC trainers from all regions, but especially from Africa; and (4) to assist those trainers to train, in Africa, 350-400 IEC staff at various levels of responsibility in population/family planning programs. The program will leave in place a highly trained core of IEC professionals who can offer IEC training seminars, workshops or courses in Africa on a national or regional basis. Approximately 400 African IEC professionals will be trained during the five years of the project.

Host Country and Other Donors: Host countries may contribute staff time, office space, meeting facilities and other logistical support for in-country training workshops.

Beneficiaries: Immediate beneficiaries will be private and public LDC institutions involved in population and family planning programs.

FY 1986 Program: Identify population IEC professionals and institutions in need of training, and IEC training resources in the Africa region; begin training-of-trainer courses in the U.S. and in Africa for population IEC trainers; collect and adapt materials and training models.
