* In September, RLS-Formal updated the total number of judges to 1,815 from 1,871 to reflect the number of sitting, active judges in Afghanistan as well as the 28th Class of the Judicial Stage.

** In September 2013, RLS-Formal decided to report only programs "produced and disseminated" under its current contract in Indicator 13. RLS-Formal has broadcast at least 32 TV and radio broadcasts in 2013, but it produced these under the prior contract. The project reset its Achievement to Date to the baseline of 12 TV & Radio programs.

12. Level of awareness of legal rights expressed by targeted beneficiaries

Date	Topic of Listening Group	Targeted Group of Beneficiaries	Transcript Recorded	Analysis			Level of Awareness Expressed
				Common Words	Conversation Framework	Internal Agreement		Precision of Response
7/25/2013	Legal Awareness Mobile Theater Performances, Comic Books and Workbooks	Male Youth and Men in Badakhshan	Yes	The most common words used included women, messages, legal, children, viode, comic and rights.	The conversation operated in a free flowing framework which allowed the participants to openly express their views and share illustrative anecdotes.	The listening group attained internal agreement on several key issues, such as the efficacy of comic books to promote rule of law messages amongst youth and the benefits of the formal justice system over the informal system.	Responses were very precise which allowed the listening group to accurately judge the effectiveness of several of RLS-Formal's public legal outreach activities. The views expressed were supported by personal details which reflected the societal realities of life in Badakhshan, including the drug trade and human trafficking .	Very Aware
8/22/2013	Legal Awareness Mobile Theater Performances, Comic Books and Workbooks	Male Youth and Men in Laghman	Yes	The most common words used included rights, women, video, messages, problems, court, and messages.	The conversation operated in a framework of question and answers between the participants and listening group leader which resulted in some personal anecdotes.	Like the previous listening group, this group attained internal agreement on most issues, including the efficacy of video public service announcements to communicate legal rights and the likelihood of viewers to communicate what they learned to their family and friends. Participants reached a strong level of agreement on the ineffectiveness of the informal justice sector in protecting women's rights and its lack of transparency.	Responses were very precise which allowed the listening group to accurately judge the effectiveness of several of RLS-Formal's public legal outreach activities. Many responses cited personal experiences where the participants or people known to the participants had positive experiences with state courts, especially regarding land disputes.	Very Aware
8/28/2013	Legal Awareness Mobile Theater Performances, Comic Books and Workbooks	Male Youth and Men in Kandahar	Yes	The most common words used included rights, women, video, messages, problems, court, and messages.	The conversation operated in a rigid framework of question and answers between the participants and listening group leader, which resulted in exact responses but few personal anecdotes.	The listening group attained widespread consensus on the efficacy of mobile theater performances and comic books. The comic books successfully communicated legal awareness messages to children as well as older male and female family members.	Responses were precise. The majority of responses commented on the the success, failures and lessons learned from the public outreach campaigns without involving personal experiences. The participants considered the television spots on the MOJ legal aid providers to be informative. Prior to the listening group, most participants were unaware of the service.	Very Aware
Conclusion: Male youth and men appear very aware overall as the result of the project's public legal outreach activities. The activities appear persuasive to a male audience on conveying the rights of women and children. RLS-Formal concluded that the level of awareness of legal rights expressed by targeted beneficiaries is "Very Aware" stage as opposed to "Aware" or "Less Aware."
