I. INTRODUCTION

During the period April 1 - September 30, 1983, the INTRAH program provided technical and financial support to the strengthening of FP/MCH training in eighteen countries of Africa and the Middle East. Since October, 1979, INTRAH's training development assistance has extended to 29 countries in the region. Nearly 25,000 professionals and paraprofessionals engaged in the provision and support of family planning and maternal-child health services have been trained during the past four years, and training skills, strategies and systems have been established which will continue to produce family planning personnel to meet the countries' needs.

Of particular interest during this reporting period are two cooperative efforts to provide regional training in clinical family planning. Through cooperation among INTRAH, IPPF and UMATI (the family planning association of Tanzania), a course is being provided in Dar-es-Salaam to nurses and midwives from five eastern and southern African countries. In Port Louis, the Mauritius Family Planning Association is training two groups of Rwandese nurses to provide clinical services, in cooperation with USAID/Rwanda and INTRAH. Not only do these courses promise to add to the family planning service capabilities of the trainee's home countries, but they also reflect a spirit of inter-agency cooperation which can exponentially increase the effectiveness of family planning and family health assistance throughout the region.

II. TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Current Reporting Period April, 1983 through September, 1983

A. Quantitative Summaries

From October 1979 through September 1983, the Program for International Training in Health (INTRAH) provided first generation in-country or third-country training or scholarships for individuals from 28 countries in Africa and the Middle East. In 19 of these countries, in-country support was provided for 157 training workshops. These workshops were designed to provide paramedical professionals with the necessary knowledge and skills to improve the quality and increase the availability of FP/MCH services and training in the region.

During this period, INTRAH supported the training of approximately 3,213 individuals in first generation activities.<sup>1</sup> In addition, as of September 30, 1983, over 31,000 individuals were documented as participants of second generation activities in The Gambia, Kenya, Mali, Morocco, Sierra Leone, Somalia, Swaziland and Tanzania. More than 21,000 of these were PAC personnel; the others were community members, mothers, or clients.

Through September, 1983 INTRAH supported 157 first generation in-country training activities. Sixteen percent involved INTRAH staff or UNC faculty in training or technical assistance to in-country trainers. Approximately 18% of in-country training was conducted by INTRAH consultants and 27% through INTRAH subcontracts: International Center for Training in Population and Family Health (INCENPFH), University of California at Santa Cruz-International Health Programs (IHP) and American College of Nurse-Midwives (ACNM). In addition, support was provided for two in-country conferences and 59 (38%) training activities conducted by in-country trainers with no technical assistance.

<sup>1</sup> This total includes estimates of the number trained in activities known to have been completed during this period, but for which documentation has not yet been received.

The following tables were prepared to provide an overall picture of the range of INTRAH first generation and documented second generation training activities and the individuals trained.

Tables 1, 2 and 3 show the topics of INTRAH's first generation training through September 1983. In Table 1, the number of participants trained in each topic area is presented for in-country projects, scholarships and conferences. Table 2 details the number of first generation trainee days by topic and project. Outlined in Table 3 is a breakdown of the topic of training by year. For each of these tables, individuals who attended more than one training activity are counted for each activity attended.

Tables 4 and 5 display information regarding first generation trainees' professional category and responsibilities. Data for these tables were obtained from the Biodata forms which were available at the time this report was prepared. Because forms for a number of activities have not been returned, percents are calculated using the total for whom forms were available; not actual numbers trained.

Second generation training documentation was obtained from 200 first generation trainees in 8 countries—6% of the total first generation trainees. Tables 6, 7, and 8 and Chart 1 in Appendix A describe documented second generation training activities and trainees.

Table 6 shows by country and topic of training the number of documented second generation PAC professionals. Note that well over half (60%) of second generation training is specifically in the areas of FP, contraception or MCH/FP. Detailed in Table 7 are second generation trainee days. Note that this information is unavailable for 17% of the documented second generation training. In Table 8 the professional categories of second generation trainees are displayed by country.

C. Regional Training and Development—Chapel Hill

Major objectives of INTRAH's regional training strategy are to:

- 1) Respond to topical training needs that have been expressed in a number of countries and for which a regional training course is appropriate.
- 2) Design events so that in-country follow-through by the participants, INTRAH, and the sponsoring institution, is reasonably assured.
- 3) Make more visible the capabilities of African institutions and resource personnel to promote country-to-country assistance within the region.
- 4) Assist the sponsoring institutions to strengthen their planning, curriculum design and training capabilities.
- 5) Promote interchange, collaboration, and joint problem-solving among African professionals by bringing together persons with similar professional backgrounds, experience, and operational-level responsibilities.

The first INTRAH-assisted regional training event conducted by an African institution, UMATI, commenced on September 5 in Dar-es-Salaam. Ten nurses, 3 each from Uganda and Swaziland, 2 from Malawi and 4 from Tanzania, are receiving comprehensive "Clinical Skills' Training" which will conclude on October 13. Planning for this event began in late November 1982, and continuing consultation has been provided since then by P. Jine M. Muthu, INTRAH Regional Training Officer. Ms. Muhuhu and Ms. Marilyn Schmidt, INTRAH's AID Project Monitor, attended the first week of the six-weeks' course. IPPF Regional Medical Director, Dr. Nimrod Mandara, attended the second week. The training staff of UMATI has received technical assistance from INTRAH's sub-contractor, IHPS, during the past two years.

II. TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Plans for INTRAH-assisted planning and management training have been table as a result of discussions held in Nairobi between REDSO/ESA and IPPF. It is probable that CAFS and/or another regional institution will be funded by IPPF or REDSO/ESA to conduct a series of planning and management courses that will meet expressed needs for strengthening of management skills.

INTRAH is exploring possibilities for regional clinical skills' training for French-speaking nurses, and for two regional educational/visual materials' development workshops.

The Mauritius Family Planning Association had been identified as a regional resource for clinical training in French, during the May visit of Knauff and Nabwiso. Seven Rwandese nurses, sponsored by USAID/Kigali, will receive clinical training in Port Louis during October-November. INTRAH staff members Rull and Muhuhu developed the linkages and made arrangements for country-to-country technical assistance.

D. INTRAH Regional Office Activities - Nairobi

During their visit to Nairobi the MOH officials held separate discussions with IPPF, FPIA, REDSO/Nairobi and the Pathfinder Fund. Later, a joint meeting involving INTRAH, the MOH officials and the mentioned agencies discussed Uganda's family planning needs. Two training resource manuals under development by the Educational Materials Unit neared completion in both English and French during this period.

"Concepts and Issues in Family Planning: Guidelines for Nurses, Midwives, and Other Health Personnel" contains units on The Challenge of Family Planning, Benefits of Family Planning, Contraception, Facilities and Care and Counselling. The manual was completed in English and reviewed by AID/W on September 29. The French version of the manual will be completed November, 1983.

"Teaching and Learning with Visual Aids: A Resource Manual for Family Planning Trainers and Health Workers in Africa and the Middle East" contains units on When to Use Visual Aids, Deciding What Kind of Visual Aid to Use, Planning and Making Your Own Visual Aids, Production Skills, Using Visual Aids in a Training or Health Education Session. The manual was completed in both English and French. The French version is being field-tested in Mali and Tunisia during September and October, 1983.

3) Resource Materials Libraries

The Educational Materials Unit has completed the assessment and selection of a small number of French and English reference materials in maternal and child health, family planning, teaching methodology and related topics. Twenty-nine (29) English Resource Materials Libraries (RMLs) were distributed to priority PAC training institutions in seven countries where INTRAH is working. Distribution of the French RMLs to priority PAC training institutions began in September 1983. Nineteen (19) French RMLs were distributed to institutions in two countries where INTRAH is working. The Libraries include introductory letters, evaluation forms, and institution questionnaires. EMU has already received a number of letters which confirm receipt of the materials and express appreciation for them.

4) Training Materials Support

The Unit supplied books and other training materials to trainers and participants of seven workshops in six countries during this reporting period. Additional materials were provided in response to twenty-four requests that emerged during INTRAH training development projects in ten countries.

The Unit supplied two institutions with two sets of the 215-volume French version African Health Training Institutions Project (AHTIP) materials. Approximately two hundred individual French and English AHTIP materials were provided to INTRAH visitors, trainers and African and Middle Eastern institutions. Two follow-up questionnaires were mailed to collect information on the use of AHTIP materials that INTRAH provided to individuals and institutions in Africa and the Middle East.

EMU compiled annotated bibliographies for French reference materials in family planning and maternal and child health. These bibliographies together with publisher addresses are being shared with PAC training institution personnel in the Francophone countries where INTRAH is working.

5) INTRAH Information

During this reporting period, the Publications Service of the Educational Materials Unit:

- Wrote, edited, printed and distributed INTRAH VIEWS No. 15, the Program's newsletter for UNC/CH faculty and staff.
- Provided information on the Program and the "Journal of FAMILY HEALTH TRAINING" to visitors and consultants, and filled requests for information brochures.
- Compiled, edited and distributed Semi-Annual Report No. 7.
- Provided editorial assistance to staff; and
- Updated and printed new INTRAH brochures in English and French.

6) INTRAH Library

The library has continued to acquire and catalog monographs, journals, and other materials to support research and program development in

MCH/FP in African and Middle Eastern countries. During the period April-September 1983, emphasis has been placed on establishing links with the Family Health International, Carolina Population Center, and Health Sciences libraries. This included the exchange of publications and current awareness bulletins and cooperation in the areas of collection development and interlibrary loans. Services offered to staff were special literature searches on topics in MCH/FP and training, and monthly bibliographies on current literature in FP.

B. Evaluation

During this reporting period, the Evaluation Unit used its technical resources to enhance both the INTRAH program and specific country-project developments in three general areas:

- 1) reporting/record keeping
- 2) project development implementation and monitoring and
- 3) staff development.

1. Reporting/Record Keeping

The Evaluation Unit worked to maintain and improve procedures for collecting, recording and reporting data associated with INTRAH's in-country training programs. Specifically, the Unit:

- Completed or provided for the completion of field evaluation reports in Egypt (ITRFP), Kenya, Somalia and Tanzania.
- Produced one "Quarterly Statistical Summary of Program Activities" and Quantitative Summary Tables for inclusion in the current semi-annual report.
- Defined special reports which need to be completed by the end of the project to document INTRAH achievement of its overall objectives.
- Continued to enter trainee records into its computerized system. As of September, 1983 21,000 second generation trainees have been included in descriptive summaries and analytical reports.
- Collected second generation training data in Somalia, Sierra Leone, and Tanzania.

III. TECHNICAL SERVICES-Current Reporting Period 4/83-9/83

- Prepared and distributed various trainee summary reports for a IHP consultant to use in Tanzania evaluation activity, INTRAH's Director to use in monthly letters to AID and other INTRAH correspondence, a INTRAH staff member to use in describing a training activity conducted in Sierra Leone, use by two INTRAH staff members to describe trainee reaction to training in Egypt and Sierra Leone, and provided direct assistance to IHP subcontractor to establish procedures for the preparation of IHP country status reports.

2. Project Development, Implementation and Monitoring

The staff of the Evaluation Unit routinely contributes to INTRAH's process of project development and implementation via membership on the Program Planning Committee, Program Budget Committee and various country Project Groups. Notable contributions during this reporting period include:

- Coordination of INTRAH's TBA training sub-contract with the American College of Nurse-Midwives which conducted training in Tanzania and Zaire and continued to develop a program in Kenya.
- Project backstopping for programs in Egypt and Sierra Leone in the absence of project managers.
- Assistance in the preparation of a position paper concerning INTRAH and USAID-mission which requested Training of Trainers/Human Sexuality workshop in Upper Volta.
- Clarification of evaluation plans, procedures and products in Sierra Leone and Swaziland.
- Preliminary planning for field-based evaluation in Rwanda including the preparation of a short questionnaire requested by ONAPO for its use in following up past workshop participants.
- Providing evaluation input into the revision of new project proposals in Sierra Leone, Uganda, and Zimbabwe.
- Coordination with EMU staff to develop an evaluation report for the Swaziland MOH Project.

3. Staff Development

During the period June-July, the Evaluation Unit Coordinator assisted in the organization of a 1½ day conference for INTRAH staff in which program goals, objectives and strategies for the last year of INTRAH's current contract were reviewed and refined. In September the Evaluation Unit led two meetings that provided INTRAH staff with the opportunity to better define how INTRAH has strengthened indigenous training systems for PAC workers.

C. Translation Services

During the last six months, the major responsibilities of the Translation Service have been the French translation of the "Teaching and Learning with Visual Aids: A Resource Manual for Family Planning Trainers and Health Workers in Africa and the Middle East" and the "Family Planning Guidelines," still in progress. The "Visual Aids Manual," in particular, has posed a difficult problem: How to present new knowledge to individuals who may have encountered and used technical terminology; but who possess divergent levels of education and experience. The Translation Service believes that, despite the growth in the number of specialized dictionaries, glossaries, etc., the possible evolution of an approach that guarantees the best possible communication between individuals would be of value, especially in an area like Africa where differences in vocabulary and usage are so great.
