SUBJECT: Functional Implications of Malnutrition (CRSP)
Project (931-1309)

Problem: Your approval of the attached PAF is required for the Functional Implications of Malnutrition CRSP project. This will enable the project to utilize core support in the amount $1,400,000. This includes $800,000 in anticipated OYB transfers from other AID/W offices and A.I.D. field Missions. The authorization also provides for a buy-in ceiling of $800,000 in the event that these mission contributions come in the form of buy-ins. Your approval is also required to extend the final year of obligation to FY 1991 and extend the PACD to September 30, 1991.

Discussion: The Nutrition CRSP was initially funded September 1981 and completed, because of funding constraints, in May 1988. Total authorized funding under this grant was $11,800,000 which was obligated during the period 1981 - 1988. Although all field based activities have been successfully completed with key data archived, the task of making selected in-depth analysis and disseminating the results still remains.

Approximately 20-30% of the data has been fully analyzed to date. Initial statistical modeling has resulted in some interesting findings; however, more comprehensive analyses of the underlying variables in these models are needed. Unless new funding is provided quickly the value of the results and their potential impact on nutrition policy and programs will be substantially compromised.

BIFAD recommended at its September 18, 1988 meeting, "that additional funds be provided for the Nutrition CRSP so that data analysis could be completed and the results be published." This amendment will provide the additional funds and time needed to do that. We request, therefore, to reopen the Nutritional CRSP project (931 1309), for two years to undertake more comprehensive analysis of the data sets.

Recommendations: That you sign the attached Project Authorization amendment.
