FY 87 OCEAN FREIGHT REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM
(Approved Agencies, Countries & Commodities)

What kind of documentation requirements have been determined?

OCEAN FREIGHT REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM funds are available from A.I.D. to pay ocean freight transportation costs for shipments of donated supplies for use in humanitarian and development programs overseas. To be eligible to receive reimbursement for shipment to a country, the PVO's program in that country must have received prior approval from A.I.D. The agencies participating in the program pay all warehousing, packaging, processing and transportation costs, as well as the administrative costs of field representatives. Eligibility is limited to U.S. PVOs registered with A.I.D. Before seeking registration, organizations should first obtain additional information on other approval criteria and annual reporting requirements.
