INTRODUCTION

This resource inventory is an essential part of the LRC-BCES model. It is designed to serve as a model of a materials filing and retrieval system which is consistent with the LRC-BCES model and thus suitable for implementation in rural Latin American locations.

Based upon the Needs Assessment and feedback from potential users, a list of over 74 Subject areas was compiled. These Subject Areas are divided among nine Subject Classes:

1. Health
2. Personal/Home
3. Agriculture/Forestry
4. Crops
5. Animal Products/Husbandry
6. Construction
7. Technical/Trade
8. Organization and Management
9. Education

All entries in this resource inventory were carefully evaluated. Materials finally accepted for the inventory were judged on the basis of the following six criteria:

1. Subject: Does the item cover topics delineated by one or more established subject areas?

2. Level: Is the item intended or suitable for people of about the same knowledge or ability as common to our proposed audience?

3. Language: Is the item written or produced in the Spanish language or in a language normally spoken by a significant part of our target population? If not, how difficult would it be to translate?

4. Cost: Is it likely that an LRC-BCES administration would be willing to pay the asking price for this item?

5. Availability: Are there any distribution restrictions which would make it difficult for the LRC-BCES to obtain this item?

6. Uniqueness: How many other items are available which could accomplish the same ends as this item?

This inventory is not an attempt to catalog all possible materials of interest to Latin Americans, nor is it designed to meet the needs of any one learning resource center. Rather, the inventory is to be a model system, a demonstration vehicle, and a basis for development.

This catalog is designed to help the Learning Resource Center administrator locate and obtain teaching/learning materials. The cataloging system may be adapted for a catalog for the Learning Resource Center and provides an easy to use method for shelving materials.

TO USE THIS INVENTORY

STEP 1: Turn to the SUBJECT LIST and find the term which comes closest to the subject material you have in mind. (As an example: If you are looking for materials on "food," you will find at least three relevant terms-- "nutrition," "food preparation," and "crops." For the purpose of explanation, we will assume that the term "nutrition" is the best label for the subject of your interest.)

Next to each term in the SUBJECT LIST, you will see a three-digit number. (The number for "nutrition" is 209.)

STEP 2: Now turn to Section II for a detailed description. Section II has guide numbers in boxes in the upper right hand corner of the page. The numbers identify the subjects listed. Turn the pages until you come to the first page on which this number is the same as the number you are looking for. (In our example of "nutrition" you will find several pages headed by the number 209.) Some of the information is coded. The Introduction to Section II gives a complete description of the format and terms used.

STEP 3: Should you decide to order the item, the number at the bottom right of the description identifies the distributor. Names and mailing addresses of distributors are listed in Section III.

This handbook is divided into three main sections: Learning Centers, Cultural Studies and Enrichment Resources. The Learning Centers section is further divided and encompasses the following subject areas: art, reading and language arts, science, and social studies. Each center description includes a guide for the teacher which lists materials recommended for each center, classroom activities, and topics for discussion in the centers. The Cultural Studies section is designed to give all students an opportunity to become involved in learning some of the values and contributions of the Mexican-American culture. Included in this section are suggested activities dealing with art projects, cooking experiences, poems, songs, games and celebrations of traditional American and Mexican holidays. Each theme is designed to enhance the development of the child's self-image. The Enrichment Resources section includes songs, poems, rhymes, and stories that can be used in either the learning centers or in the cultural studies section. All instructions for the teacher are in English.
