VII. OBSERVATIONS AND REMARKS:

The attendance at an international professional meeting is always a morale booster, since you can talk with fellow scientists about each other's work and find mutual interest and encouragement. Also, a scientist can reshape and fine-tune ideas for further studies by talking and listening to colleagues. I felt I got a great deal out of this particular conference that will help me in my work at the University of Illinois.

VIII. FOLLOW-UP ACTION:

Requests for reprints have been filled, preparation of the manuscript of my invitational paper for publication has been completed, letter to ISPP has been written. No other follow-up action required.
