TAICH COUNTRY REPORT
DEVELOPMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS FOR UPPER VOLTA

November 1977

This report describes the programs of 23 private, non-profit U.S. organizations which provide the people of Upper Volta with development assistance and material aid. An index of the specific programs appears in chart form at the end of the report. This is one of a series of periodically revised country reports which expand and update Part II of the TAICH 1971 directory, U.S. Non-Profit Organizations in Development Assistance Abroad.

Of the 23 U.S. organizations included in the report, 16 were able to provide TAICH with financial data indicating program expenditures in 1977 of $6,700,434. These figures should be viewed more as indicators than as exact sums; differences in fiscal year, methods of financial reporting and methods of estimating dollar values of commodities, equipment and material shipped make correlation and absolute accuracy impossible.

Additional and new information on the programs of the organizations appearing in this report is gathered regularly and is available from TAICH. Readers are requested to advise TAICH of any changes or new programs of U.S. private, non-profit organizations in Upper Volta. Besides country reports, TAICH publishes directories, bibliographies, a quarterly newsletter and a series of category reports in which descriptions of assistance programs are compiled by functions of development assistance. A publications list is available from TAICH.

The information given on each organization is based on the data supplied to TAICH by that organization. Publication of this information does not guarantee accuracy of content or endorsement by the American Council or TAICH of any organization.

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF VOLUNTARY AGENCIES FOR FOREIGN SERVICE, INC.
TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE INFORMATION CLEARING HOUSE (TAICH)
200 Park Avenue South, New York, New York 10003

THE AMERICAN COUNCIL OF VOLUNTARY AGENCIES FOR FOREIGN SERVICE, INC. was founded in 1943 for the purpose of providing a forum for cooperation, joint planning and the exchange of ideas and information in order to avoid duplication of effort and assure the maximum effectiveness of the relief, rehabilitation and development programs of American voluntary agencies. Through the mechanism of the Council, member agencies have established relationships not only among themselves but also with non-member agencies and governmental, intergovernmental and international organizations. Since 1955, the Council has operated the Technical Assistance Information Clearing House under contract with the U.S. Agency for International Development.

THE TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE INFORMATION CLEARING HOUSE serves as a center of information on the socio-economic development programs abroad of U.S. non-profit organizations, including voluntary agencies, church missions and foundations. It makes available to organizations, government, researchers and others, source materials from its files for study and research. Through publications and the maintenance of an everyday inquiry service TAICH responds to the need for current information about development assistance with particular reference to the resources and concerns of the private, non-profit sector.

THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON VOLUNTARY FOREIGN AID was established in 1946 to serve as a focal point for relations between the U.S. Government and U.S. private and voluntary organizations active in the fields of relief, rehabilitation and development overseas. It is composed of private citizens who serve without compensation. The Committee's advisory responsibilities are to provide information and advice to A.I.D. and other U.S. Government agencies relating to areas of foreign assistance in which the Government and private and voluntary organizations interact, to provide assistance to the community of private and voluntary organizations working abroad relative to problems and issues in their relations with A.I.D. and other Federal agencies and to foster public interest in voluntary foreign aid and the activities of the private and voluntary organizations. Through the Foreign Assistance Act, the Committee has the operational function of registering qualified U.S. private, non-profit organizations that have overseas voluntary aid programs and seek to be registered. Such registered organizations are then eligible to apply for participation in the U.S. Government overseas freight reimbursement, Food for Peace and Government-owned excess property programs. In response to Congressional mandate, A.I.D. has expanded the Registry, and as of October 1, 1977, registration with the Advisory Committee is now a prerequisite for all U.S. private and voluntary organizations seeking A.I.D. grants. Currently the Advisory Committee is in the process of registering and re-registering agencies under the new guidelines. For a current list of registered agencies write to the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid, Office of Private and Voluntary Cooperation, Bureau for Private and Development Cooperation, Agency for International Development, Washington, D.C. 20523.

The purpose of the program in Upper Volta is to improve the quality of life in the rural areas through programs of water resource development, provision of health care services, and integrated rural development.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT: Seguenega Integrated Rural Development, funded in part by the U.S. Agency for International Development, is a project to improve the economic conditions and the quality of life of the rural poor who live in the Seguenega Sector of Upper Volta. The Seguenega project combines the various sectors of agricultural production (community development villages, vegetable gardening, improvement of low-lying areas, earthen dam construction, livestock); health (health education, design of a rural health delivery system, training of mid-wives, hiring additional health personnel, and supplying equipment and medicines); education (vocational education, primary education, adult literacy - functional literacy, and centers for the training of young farmers); rural road construction; and support of the regional government, which includes provision of vehicles, equipment for topographic studies, agricultural equipment, equipment for artisans, housing, grain storage, water pumping, and well construction. The total cost of the project is estimated at $5,680,811.

CONSTRUCTION, HOUSING & PLANNING: Constructed dam at Kyon to provide water for human and animal consumption and vegetable production. At the request of the Upper Voltaic government assisted in setting up a water program in the Pouni District, situated in the Koudougou region, 78 miles southwest of Ougadougou. In 1975 Africare initiated a program to construct and restore 18 wells in 12 villages in the Pouni District. In 1976 a new agreement called for the construction and reparation of six wells in the villages of Natron, Lourou, Poussowna, Zawara, Bakapour, and Bandeo-Napone.

FOOD PRODUCTION & AGRICULTURE: Improving government forestry at Tikare, 112 kilometers north of Ougadougou. Built new fence, new storehouse, and trench around nursery to guard against excess water during the rainy season. After six months trees will be moved to neighboring village woodlots.

The loan reimbursement record is good as these farmers are already earning double the income of their neighbors, and doing it through "modern" sedentary agriculture, rather than the wasteful slash and burn method. Is increasing the revolving loan fund for the farmers, and helping start a program among the farmers' wives which will help them improve their well-being and that of their families.
