ORGANIZATION PROFILES REPORT

This report presents profiles of 13 U.S. non-profit organizations, including voluntary agencies, missions and other groups. It expands and updates Part I of the TAICH 1971 directory, U.S. Non-Profit Organizations in Development Assistance Abroad. Two groups, Compassion and National Council of Catholic Women (now part of National Council of Catholic Laity) were listed in the 1964 directory, but not in the 1971 directory.

This information given on each organization is based on the data supplied to TAICH by that organization. Publication of this information does not guarantee accuracy of content, or endorsement by the American Council or TAICH of any organization.

ASSISTANCE TO BANGLADESH AND TO BANGALI REFUGEES IN INDIA

This report describes the emergency assistance, rehabilitation, and recovery programs of U.S. voluntary agencies in the country that was formerly East Pakistan and is now Bangladesh. Also included are programs instigated in India for the relief of Bangali refugees which are now being phased out due to the return of refugees to Bangladesh. Since the programs of many voluntary agencies are in a state of flux, certain changes in activities may be underway which will not necessarily be reflected in this report.

Members of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service (+), and agencies registered with the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid (*) are included. Information on the programs and activities of other groups is available from the Technical Assistance Information Clearing House.

BANGLADESH

Since November 1970, has provided relief assistance totaling $225,000 in cash and supplies. In support of the League of Red Cross Societies' Cyclone Relief Program, assigned four disaster specialists, and following the emergency period, three technicians to a cyclone rehabilitation and preparedness program.

Presently, two specialists working with the cyclone preparedness program, and one assisting in the development of the Bangladesh Red Cross.

After the India-Pakistan conflict, supported the operation of the International Committee of the Red Cross, including its traditional service to prisoners of war, medical services to the sick and wounded, and feeding and protection of minority groups.

In addition to the above total, a grant of $1 million is being made by AID to the International Committee through ANRC.

INDIA

Cash and supplies valued at $192,075 donated to the Indian Red Cross Refugee Relief Program, and one public relations specialist made available to same.

* AMERICANS FOR CHILDREN'S RELIEF, INC.
49 Greenwich Avenue, Greenwich, Connecticut 06830--(203) 661-1830

BANGLADESH & INDIA

Conducts fund raising campaigns, the proceeds of which are used to support the relief work of U.S. agencies in Bangladesh and India and the work of Catholic Relief Services in particular. Total contributions to date amount to $38,500. Of this amount, $10,000 was sent through Catholic Relief Services for an orphans program in Bangladesh in January 1971 following the cyclone and tidal wave disaster. The program closed down temporarily, reopening in December 1971. A total of $15,000 has been earmarked since then for the support of orphanages in Dacca, Chittagong, Khulna and Dinajpur, which currently care for approximately 1500 children. In July 1971, $5,000 was given for a charter flight of roofing materials and high protein baby foods for the Bangali refugees in India, and an additional $1,500 was contributed through Church World Service for feeding programs among refugees in India in August 1971. Joined Catholic Relief Services in co-sponsoring an emergency charter flight on February 24, 1972 carrying 75,000 lbs. of aluminum roofing and 20,000 lbs. of baby food for refugees re-entering Bangladesh.

Co-sponsored with Catholic Relief Services the two-week survey trip to India in November 1971 of Dr. Roy Brown, a pediatrician specializing in nutrition. Report and recommendations for a program for infants and children in refugee camps has since been prepared. ACR contribution to project totalled $2,000.

Regional Representative: Henry Selz, Provincial Director

Emergency Program Initiated: November 1970

Personnel: 4 U.S. (Provincial director, deputy director, 2 CARE/UNICEF Personnel); 11 other U.S. staff members are not presently in residence but plan to return.

FINANCIAL: Total value of emergency aid to date in cash and kind: $2,167,000 of which $100,000 was in the form of a cash grant from the U.S. Government

CONSTRUCTION & HOUSING: Requested by Government of Bangladesh to construct one village on the site of one wholly or largely destroyed over the past year in each of the 62 subdivisions of Bangladesh. First field unit began work in Comilla using existing project and staff as core from which the 62 village project would expand. In Comilla 250 houses have been completed, and on-site training of 120 new personnel hired for the 62 village project has been provided. Two four-day training courses have been held at the Academy for Rural Development at Comilla. As of April 1, 11 of the 62 villages were under reconstruction, four in Comilla district, three in Dacca district, and 4 in Jessore district. Five additional villages were in the preparation stage on that date, three in Mymensingh district and two more in Comilla district. Six more villages were being surveyed by project personnel, four in Sylhet district and two in Chittagong district. A total of 637,000 blocks, sufficient for 532 additional houses, have been moulded for on-going projects.

Materials purchased for building as of April 1, included 6,580 tons of cement, 2,095 tons of corrugated iron sheets for roofing, 15 tons of m.s. rods, 6 tons of nails and 3 tons of roofing screws, 500 block-making machines, timber for 5,000 houses, and 20 trucks.

COOPERATIVES: The 62 village project has become a joint-project of the Ministry of Cooperatives and Rural Development with CARE, and sub-divisional cooperative "Instructors" have completed a four-day course of special training prior to assignment to villages where their work will be to motivate recipients of houses to form cooperatives as the means of supporting and spreading village development.

MEDICINE & PUBLIC HEALTH: In August 1971 CARE and UNICEF entered into an agreement whereby 6 CARE representatives would work with UNICEF for 12 months to assist in the Child Feeding Program. The primary school system was selected as the principal distribution outlet, with hospitals, health centers, orphanages, missions, etc., used as secondary outlets. Pre-cooked and partially instantized corn/soya/milk and wheat/soya blend are used in program. Program virtually discontinued during hostilities. On December 26, 1971, the Government of Bangladesh requested continued assistance from UNICEF through the Child Feeding Program. Approximately 39,000 metric tons are due to arrive between March 1st and June 30th. On March 1st, 18,000 tons arrived off Chittagong. Latest plan is to reach 4 million beneficiaries by September 1972 and maintain that figure through June 1973. By end of March 1972, it was estimated that 1 million children were being fed daily in 11 districts of Bangladesh.

Cooperating with the Government of Bangladesh, UNICEF, and AID.

Gifts in Kind: $1,167,055

U.S. Gov't. Assistance: Rs. 1,000,000 (approx. $133,300) for cyclone rehabilitation projects
$3,000,000 for CRS/CORR Housing Program

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT: CRS projects in Bangladesh are conducted in cooperation with the Christian Organization for Relief and Rehabilitation (CORR), an agency set up by the 4 Catholic Bishops of Bangladesh after the November 1970 cyclone to aid survivors of the disaster. On-going projects include construction of cyclone-proof houses and community shelters, irrigation and drainage work, road construction, and agricultural development. These projects are located in the Noakhali, Putuakhali, and Khulna districts. Work on the projects is done by able bodied survivors in order to provide them with employment and a source of income while rebuilding their homes and villages.

EQUIPMENT & MATERIAL AID: Transferred 110 tons of needed supplies from Calcutta to Dacca via the International Committee of the Red Cross. Valued at $54,700, supplies included 17,500 bedspreads, 10,000 saris, 2,000 cases of soap, and 20 tons of dried milk. Shipped by air from New York to Bangladesh, 121 tons of supplies, including roofing materials, valued at $508,100. Shipped by sea from New Orleans an additional 99 tons of corrugated roofing valued at $245,009, and from Singapore, 70 tons of the same commodity valued at $19,247. Transferred approximately 2,000 tons of U.S. Government donated P.L. 480 foods valued at $340,000 from CRS stocks in Calcutta into Bangladesh.

In addition to local purchases of relief supplies by CRS, each of the 4 Bangladesh dioceses will receive initially Rs 100,000; the respective Bishop of each diocese will use these monies for the relief of the people in his area. Each diocese will be expected to report regularly on the expenditure of these funds, and additional monies will be provided as needed.

MEDICINE & PUBLIC HEALTH: The above mentioned shipments of equipment and material aids included certain medical and hospital supplies. Prior to these shipments, CRS had provided medical supplies valued at approximately 70,000, which amount included 96,000 water purification tablets, 24,000 units of multi-vitamins, 1,000 blankets, 100,000 doses of typhoid vaccine, and 3,750 pounds of antibiotics.

FUTURE PLANS: Continue to supply the most urgently needed drugs, pharmaceuticals, and hospital equipment and supplies. Participate in the Bangladesh Christian Organization for Relief and Rehabilitation's (CORR) $30 million reconstruction and development plans with particular emphasis on supplying roofing for 200,000 family dwellings, supplying tools and implements for artisans and craftsmen in addition to providing supplemental foods on a food-for-work basis. Under consideration is a five-year tube well project to irrigate 13,000 acres of farmland in northern Bangladesh, pending completion of engineering survey.

Emergency Program Initiated: June 1971

Emergency Program Terminated: Currently being phased out through May 1972

Personnel: 2 U.S.; 2 Indian

Provided subsistence stipends to refugee doctors, teachers and professionals who in turn accepted work assignments in the refugee camps in the following programs:

EDUCATION (BASIC): Established 51 schools in the refugee camps (31 in West Bengal, 10 in North Bengal, and 10 in Tripura), which employed a total refugee staff of 714 teachers and 10 administrators, each school having an average teaching staff of 14. Classes were held either in half-day shifts, sharing existing school facilities in the vicinities with the local population, or in temporary, single class "shed schools". The average school served approximately 500 children. Some school supplies were also provided where necessary.

EDUCATION (ADVANCED): Provided employment for university professors, artists, and writers. IRC initiated a folklore research project employing 30 persons, a study of camp life dynamics employing 25 persons and a "Research Faculty in Exile" program engaging 45 academicians and 4 secretarial/clerical assistants in a study of the overall refugee flow and of resettlement problems that might arise during the return to Bangladesh. Grants for the purchase of paints and canvases were made to refugee artists, and an exhibition of their work was presented in Calcutta in September. A total of 36 grants were made to artists and writers.

IRC also engaged 19 refugee scientists to develop an up-to-date program of science education in preparation for the reopening of institutions of higher learning in Bangladesh. Individual IRC fellowships also enabled some refugee scientists to enter Indian research institutes.

MEDICINE & PUBLIC HEALTH: Placed 360 medical personnel in 62 refugee camp medical facilities which treated an estimated total of 250,000 patients per month. At Barasat, a staff of 42 maintained an out-patient dispensary treating approximately 500 persons per day and a 24-hour maternity and child welfare center which concentrated on malnutrition problems of children. At the Kalyani camp, 57 doctors, nurses, pharmacists, and medical aides provided services.
