The A.I.D. Center for Development Information and Evaluation (PPC/CDIE) operates and maintains the A.I.D. Library. The A.I.D. Library provides a series of services to users, including reference assistance, document identification, interlibrary loan, and technical and AID database searching.

The A.I.D. Library collections are shaped both to serve the current information needs of A.I.D. staff and to act as the agency repository for its major documents and publications. Items present at the A.I.D. Library are: 500 or more serial titles; over 80,000 internal A.I.D. program and project documents (in either paper copy or microfiche), including Country Development Strategy Statements and Annual Budget Submissions, and Congressional Presentations; and some 12,000 volumes of reference and non-AID development oriented materials.

Any item in the circulating collection can be borrowed directly by A.I.D. staff for a period of 28 days. A.I.D. materials held in microfiche may be ordered in paper copy or microfiche from the A.I.D. Document and Information Handling Facility (DIHF). Publications and journal articles needed by A.I.D. staff but unavailable in the library can be located and borrowed from other libraries in the U.S. through interlibrary loan.

The A.I.D. Library is located in Room 105 (Main Lobby level) at 1601 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia. It is open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The mailing address is A.I.D. Library, Room 105 SA-18, Washington, D.C. 20523. The telephone is 703-235-1000.
In November of this year The Agency for International Development will celebrate its 25th Anniversary. There is a continuing interest in the history of AID that has become particularly strong with the approaching anniversary. As the Marshall Plan will celebrate its 40th Anniversary in 1987, it seems appropriate to compile a bibliography of items held in the Aid Library relating to the history of The Agency for International Development and its predecessor agencies.

In this bibliography, we have attempted to include studies covering all time periods, from the end of World War II to the present, and all predecessor organizations. In the interest of brevity, we have included only items that address the Agency as a whole and have omitted studies relating to specific sector or geographic areas.
