Disclaimer

This directory was made possible by the generous support of the American people through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). The contents are the responsibility of Coptic Orphans and do not necessarily reflect the views of USAID or the United States Government.

COPTIC ORPHANS

Coptic Orphans is an international non-profit organization, established in 1988, and officially registered in 1992. Coptic Orphans seeks to achieve sustainable development for future generations, be they children or young people in various stages of education, by unleashing their potential and assisting them in overcoming poverty, so that they become agents of change in their communities.

Coptic Orphans US headquarters and its branches in Egypt, Canada and Australia work in collaboration with local non-profit Egyptian organization through three major programs:

- Not Alone Program: this project supports children who have lost either one or both of their parents. The program seeks to make these children active participants in their communities.
- Valuable Girl Project: this project aims to empower girls by preventing them from dropping out of school, and providing them with an enabling environment to continue their education.
- Be'edaya: this project aims at supporting widowed mothers set up small self- sufficiency projects, to ensure financial stability.

TAMKEEN

TAMKEEN aims at improving the institutional capabilities and organizational skills of community development associations in Minia, Assuit, and Sohag, to promote civic participation of girls in their community and expose participants to the value of volunteerism.

To ensure better communication among the project partners, Coptic Orphans is publishing this directory which contains information about project partners and other local non-government organizations in the target governorates. These organizations and associations work in diverse fields and are primarily concerned with local community development, especially for marginalized groups. The directory also includes unions, national councils, and funding entities. It is envisaged that this directory will be used to boost networking and connectivity among associations, donors, and the media, and as a reference for civil society and its activities.

We hope this directory will contribute to unifying efforts and strengthening cooperation and communication among all stakeholders in Egyptian society, thereby yielding the greatest results possible.

The information included in this directory was obtained through an application form filled out by the participating CDAs. The information pertaining to unions, national councils and funding entities was collected by the project team.
