International Child Care is a private voluntary organization (PVO), working in health care development in Haiti since 1962. ICC's major objective is to enable Haitian health service personnel to strengthen the health infrastructure, to assist in the control and prevention of communicable diseases through primary health care promotion throughout Haiti.

ICC began its work in Haiti in 1962 with the completion of Grace Children's Hospital in Port-au-Prince in 1967. The hospital, accepting tubercular and malnourished children, grew from its original census of 37 children to a high in 1976 of 200 children.

Realizing the need for a preventive approach to the problem of tuberculosis, ICC initiated a mass BCG vaccination program beginning in 1975, under a contract with the Department of Public Health. Over 2.2 million children have been immunized to date by ICC's Crusade Against Tuberculosis (CAT), at over 3,000 vaccination posts across the country from 1974-79. This was largely accomplished by mobile teams of vaccinators.

In response to a desire to move the CAT program into a more community-based activity, ICC expanded its TB control activities in 1976 to include case-finding treatment and education (CFTE) through a nationwide network of co-operating treatment centers. In many areas, the former mobile vaccination team members are becoming community-based vaccinator-educators and assuming responsibility for the area around their homes.

New programs for ICC in the foreseeable future include expanded immunizations (BCG, DTP, measles and polio), health education, oral rehydration therapy, nutrition and family spacing. ICC has a successful two-year old family planning clinic at ICC Grace Children's Hospital in Port-au-Prince. ICC has been in partnership with USAID since 1982, when USAID funds sponsored the "Medication Monitor" project. This project, still underway, seeks to investigate the incidence, causes and remedies of patients' non-compliance with tuberculosis treatment.

International Child Care's track record of mass inoculation campaign with BCG, Grace Children's Hospital and co-operating clinics confirm its ability to successfully carry out the proposed Child Survival project. These activities include:

- a. TB Case Finding, Treatment and Education (CFTE) activities throughout Haiti, with 118 TB agents trained and working in 115 cooperating private and government-run centers across the country. Each of these centers (hereafter referred to as a co-op center) enters into a contract with ICC whereby they undertake to employ a TB agent trained and supervised by ICC. This agent is given a three-month training session at the ICC Education and Treatment Center in Port-au-Prince, and is installed in the co-op center upon completion of the course. He/she is supplied with a microscope and all other supplies and medicines required to prevent, diagnose, and treat tuberculosis.

The clinics agree to receive periodic supervisory visits from ICC personnel, to submit monthly reports detailing the number of patients on treatment and the number of children vaccinated, and to follow a specified ICC record-keeping system for their TB patients. This network of health centers and health agents is an excellent framework for expansion into the treatment and especially the prevention of diseases other than tuberculosis.

- b. Education and training, to provide health professionals, para-professionals and the general public with TB and primary health care information through a variety of communication forms such as classes, seminars, literature, posters, radio, television and direct mail.
- c. The BCG-CAT mass-vaccination campaign was conducted for persons aged 0-20 years from 1975-1979. A total of 1.9 million persons were vaccinated with BCG in 3,000 vaccination posts all across Haiti. BCG vaccinations continue to be systematically conducted for children 0-4 by 32 mobile vaccination-educators throughout Haiti in areas not accessible to a CAT "Co-Op" clinic. Over 2,327,000 persons have been vaccinated outside the Port-au-Prince metropolitan area, as ICC concentrates its vaccination efforts in the rural sections of the country. This campaign was carried out with the approval and participation of community residents, Chef de Section, the Ministry of Public Health (MSPP) and other PVO's.
- d. Two mini-mass vaccination campaigns with BCG and DPT for newborns in Port-au-Prince in joint action with the MSPP.
- e. The Outpatient Clinic at Grace Children's Hospital which handles about 2,500 pediatric and adult patient visits per month and is a center for information, training and research activities.

- f. Grace Children's Hospital which maintains an 80-bed pediatric hospital for patients with advanced TB, malnutrition and other diseases.
- g. The ICC national TB drug sales program, providing sufficient drugs to clinics, hospitals and Government health centers to treat about 12,500 persons each year.
- h. Community health education teams working with the personnel of established health centers, exposing the concepts and practices of health education. Also provided by the teams is the experience of planning and implementing community health education programs.
- i. Being a leader in interagency cooperation: as the coordinator for Medical Assistance Program International (MAP) medical supplies, as a founding member of both the Haitian Association of Voluntary Agencies and the Association of Private Health through seminars and through the broad contacts that have been established with the Ministere de la Sante Publique et de la Population (MSPP) and with other private and public agencies.
- j. Operating a family planning clinic which serves TB patients in the Outpatient Clinic at Grace Children's Hospital who have indicated a desire to receive information and services.
- k. Performing research and evaluation of health programs: the Statistics, Evaluation and Research (SER) department of ICC is engaged full-time in evaluation of ICC programs, as well as in research projects in the field of health in the developing world. One such research project, the "Medication Monitor" study, is funded by USAID. Medication Monitor seeks the details and the treatment of this disease in the Third World. Dr. Michael Cayemittes, head of the SER Department, is also currently involved in a study entitled, "Promotion of ORT Through Community Participation," in conjunction with PRICOR. The ORT promotion model developed in this project may be applied in the present project. These results will be available in March, 1986.

ICC has also been very successful in disseminating information, education, motivation and organization in communities. Perhaps the strongest asset in the ICC dossier is the community enthusiasm generated for vaccination activities. During the ongoing BCG vaccination campaign, much care was taken to involve and motivate the community. Days before the vaccination post is to be established ICC representatives approach the "Chef de Section"

(police chiefs) to request their permission and support for the proposed vaccination post. Other community, religious and civic leaders are similarly involved. The influence of church and school leaders is used to encourage attendance at the vaccinations by all community members. Since the original mass vaccination effort, ICC has learned of and included in the community participation process many new ideas: clinic and hospital advisory committees, consisting of community residents, are being established; pastors, priests, leaf doctors and voodoo doctors are asked to encourage attendance; town councils are pressed into service for organization and motivation; local schools are often used as vaccination posts, as well as being the site of health education classes which encourage vaccination and general primary health care; volunteer health workers are recruited from the community; local vendors sell ORT packets and contraceptives. In general, every possible resource in the community is tapped to ensure the spread of health care information and to encourage the people to be vaccinated and to come to the nearest clinic if they become sick or manifest recognized symptoms.

3. PROPOSED PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Overall objective: to reduce child mortality of children aged 0-5 years in Haiti by at least 20% within three years.

a. Objectives of proposed program:

- (1) Work in close collaboration with the MSPP to vaccinate children 0-2 years old in the Southern Health Region of Haiti July 1, 1985 to June 31, 1986. The same objective schedule is expected to begin in the Northern and Central Regions of Haiti in 1986-87.

Year 1 to increase national BCG coverage of children 0-5 to 60%
Year 2 to increase national BCG coverage of children 0-5 to 70%
Year 3 to increase national BCG coverage of children 0-5 to 80%

Year 1 to increase national measles coverage of children 0-5 to 30%
Year 2 to increase national measles coverage of children 0-5 to 60%
Year 3 to increase national measles coverage of children 0-5 to 80%

Year 1 to increase national coverage of 3 doses of DPT to 20%
Year 2 to increase national coverage of 3 doses of DPT to 40%
Year 3 to increase national coverage of 3 doses of DPT to 60%

- (2) Educate mothers on the causes and consequences of diarrhea. Motivate and teach them how to use oral rehydration therapy (packets of home preparations) in order to have at least 90% of them know how to use ORT at the end of the three-year project.

b. Strategy:

- (1) During the mass BCG vaccination campaign of 1975-81, ICC established over 3,000 vaccination posts throughout the nation. Posts are located so that every person is located within one hour's walk of a post. To avoid a duplication of efforts, ICC will motivate and train existing health institutions to assume responsibility for administering all EPI vaccines at posts located within a reasonable catchment area. ICC will provide training and material support when necessary. For those posts located in areas totally unserved by any viable health institutions, ICC will install locally-based vaccinator-educators to administer EPI vaccines at the posts, at regular four-month intervals.
- (2) A 10-minute educational activity will take place at each vaccination post to teach and motivate mothers to use oral rehydration therapy for their children with diarrhea. These messages will be supplemented by other educational interventions aimed at mothers and the general population (e.g. radio dramas, health songs, posters, literature). These educational activities are similar to those presently used with success in ICC's tuberculosis campaign.

c. Organization:

ICC currently has in place the organizational structure necessary to implement the program. Regional offices have been established in the South, North and Central regions of the country. Each office already has a trained cadre of vaccinators and educators, along with doctors and supervisors. Senior level administration and management offices are located in the capital.

ICC has contractual working agreements with 115 health institutions throughout the country and maintains close contact with regional and national MSPP health planners. ICC employs 180 persons in its Haiti programs. Of these employees, 9 are expatriates (4 career and 5 volunteer). ICC has 10 Haitian doctors.

d. Work Plan:

- (1) Obtain authorization and joint plans with the MSPP to undertake this project. Secure the MSPP's commitment to fully participate and ensure the maintenance of the EPI and other child survival activities to be established.

- (2) Work with the MSPP's Regional Directors and District Health Administrators to identify health institutions capable of sustaining ongoing EPI activities. Negotiate with these institutions as to which vaccination posts can be turned over to them for execution of EPI activities. Provide them with necessary training and materials essential to program success.
- (3) Install locally-based vaccinator-educators in areas unserved by health institutions. Provide supervision and logistical support for their EPI activities. Develop community participation and support in the program.
- (4) Expand upon the existing BCG educational materials, messages and strategy to include EPI, ORT, Nutrition and Child Spacing. Conduct periodic training seminars for personnel from participating health institutions.
- (5) The first year (Phase I) will impact the Southern region with 75% of the program effort and budget. The second year, the Northern region will receive 50% of program funds. The Central region will have the same goals, but is already 75% funded by The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA)

4. MONITORING AND EVALUATION

Continuous monitoring and evaluation of the project will be conducted by ICC's in-house Statistics, Evaluation and Research (SER) department. The SER department is headed by Dr. Michel Cayemittes (M.D., M.P.H.).

Nine months after the project is begun, a comprehensive re-evaluation and cluster survey will be done.

Immunization statistics from the vaccinator-educators and participating health institutions will be collected and published monthly. A survey of a representative sample of the population in the South Health region to determine the mortality rate and the vaccinal coverage of the target age group (0-15 years); also to be measured is the level of use of ORT by mothers. Similar surveys will be taken at the end of each project year.

A recent cluster survey led by Dr. Jon Rohde (MSH), in the South revealed that EPI coverage for 3 DPT is under 18% (1982 study). This same type of cluster survey will be conducted at the end of each year to measure results and compare with the baseline study.

5. COUNTRY SPECIFIC IMPLEMENTATION PLANS

(See Attachment I)

The recipient will submit a detailed field implementation plan for each country project by December 31, 1985 in accordance with AID guidance. Each plan should respond to the following:

(1) WHERE is the project located?

Attach a map diagraming the area to receive services; label villages or population centers; indicate your project headquarters; show where your health workers will be located; indicate location, number, and type of health service units (public or private) in area; indicate for each population center the average travel time to obtain immunizations/other health care.

(2) WHO will receive services?

(A) What is estimated population in your project area? How many families have children under 5 years? How many babies are born each year?

(B) If your project includes provision or promotion of immunizations, what is the target group for immunization? If pregnant females are included, will all females of child-bearing ages be immunized?

(C) What steps will be taken to inform and motivate the target population?

(D) Will any high-risk children be identified? if so, how? What steps will be taken to reach high-risk groups?

(E) Will any special steps be taken to reach "drop outs"?

(F) How will you identify vulnerable groups who are not reached by your services? What steps will be taken to reach such groups?

(3) WHAT do you need to carry out your health interventions?

AIR TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION (OCTOBER 1984)

provision is applicable when any costs for air travel or transportation are included in the budget).

(c) The grantee is required to present to the project officer for written approval an itinerary for each planned international trip financed by this grant, which shows the name of the traveler, purpose of the trip, origin/destination (and intervening stops), and dates of travel, as far in advance of proposed travel as possible, not in no event at least three weeks before travel is planned to commence. At least one week before commencement of approved international travel, the grantee shall notify the cognizant U.S. Mission or Embassy, and a copy to the project officer, of planned travel, notifying the travelers and the dates and times of arrival.

(d) Travel to certain countries shall, at AID's option, be made on U.S.-owned local currency. When AID intends to exercise this option, AID will, after receipt of advice of the grantee, travel required above, either issue a U.S. Government Travel Request (GTR) or Transportation Request (GTR) which the grantee may use for tickets, or AID will issue the tickets directly. If such U.S.-owned currencies will constitute a dollar equivalent to this grant.

(e) All air travel and shipments under this grant are to be made on United States flag air carriers to the extent such services by such carriers is available. A U.S. flag air carrier is defined as an air carrier which has a certificate of convenience and necessity issued by the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board authorizing operations between the United States and/or its territories and one or more foreign countries.

(f) Use of foreign air carrier service may be deemed necessary if a U.S. flag air carrier otherwise available cannot provide the foreign air transportation needed, or if use of such service will not accomplish the agency's mission. Travel on non-free world air carriers are not reimbursable under this grant.

(g) U.S. flag air carrier service is considered available through:

1. Comparable or a different kind of service can be obtained at less cost by a foreign air carrier;
2. Foreign air carrier service is preferred by or is convenient for the agency or traveler; or

3. Service by a foreign air carrier can be paid for in excess foreign currency, unless U.S. flag air carriers are unable to accept excess or near excess foreign currencies for transportation payable only out of such monies.

(h) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, U.S. flag air carrier service must be used for all Government-funded commercial foreign air travel if service provided by such carriers is available. In determining availability of a U.S. flag air carrier, the following scheduling principles shall be followed unless their application results in the last leg of travel to or from the United States being served by foreign air carrier:

1. U.S. flag air carrier service available at point of origin should be used to destination or in the absence of direct or through service to the farthest interchange point on a usually traveled route;

2. Where an origin or interchange point is not served by a U.S. flag air carrier, foreign air carrier service should be used only to the nearest interchange point on a usually traveled route to connect with U.S. flag air carrier service; or

3. Where a U.S. flag air carrier involuntarily cannot serve the traveler via a foreign air carrier the foreign air carrier may be used notwithstanding the availability of alternate U.S. flag air carrier services.

4. For travel between a gateway airport in the United States and the last U.S. airport from which the traveler's flight to the first U.S. airport at which the traveler's flight arrives, and a gateway airport abroad (that airport from which the traveler last embarks enroute to the U.S. or at which the traveler last disembarks incident to travel from the U.S.), passenger service by U.S. flag air carrier will not be considered available.

1. Where the gateway airport abroad is the traveler's origin or destination airport, and the use of U.S. flag air carrier service would extend the time in a travel status, including delay at origin and accelerated arrival at destination, by at least 24 hours more than travel by foreign air carrier:

2. Where the gateway airport abroad is an interchange point, and the use of U.S. flag air carrier service would require the traveler to wait six hours or more to make connections at that point, or delayed departure from or accelerated arrival at the gateway airport in the United States would extend the time in a travel status by at least six hours more than travel by foreign air carrier.

(h) For travel between two points outside the United States the rules in paragraphs (d) through (f) of this section will be applicable, but passenger service by U.S. flag air carrier will not be considered to be reasonably available:

1. If travel by foreign air carrier would eliminate two or more aircraft changes enroute;

2. Where one of the two points abroad is the gateway airport (as defined in paragraph (g) of this section) enroute to or from the United States, if the use of a U.S. flag air carrier would extend the time in a travel status by at least six hours more than travel by foreign air carrier including accelerated arrival at the overseas destination or delayed departure from the overseas origin as well as delay at the gateway airport or other interchange point abroad; or

3. Where the travel is not part of a trip to or from the United States, if the use of a U.S. flag air carrier would extend the time in a travel status by at least six hours more than travel by foreign air carrier including delay at origin, delay enroute and accelerated arrival at destination.

(i) When travel under either paragraph (g) or (h) of this section involves three hours or less between origin and destination by a foreign air carrier, U.S. flag air carrier service will not be considered available when it involves twice such travel time or more.

(j) Nothing in the above-guidelines shall preclude and no penalty shall attend the use of a foreign air carrier which provides transportation under an air transport agreement between the United States and a foreign government, the terms of which are consistent with the international aviation policy goals set forth at 49 U.S.C. 1502(b) and provide reciprocal rights and benefits.

(k) Where U.S. Government funds are used to reimburse the grantee's use of other than U.S. flag carriers for international transportation, the grantee will include a certification on vouchers involving such transportation which is essentially as follows:

CERTIFICATION OF UNAVAILABILITY OF U.S. FLAG AIR CARRIERS

I hereby certify that the transportation service for personnel (and their personal effects) or property by certificated air carrier was unavailable for the following reason(s): (State appropriate reason(s) as set forth above).

(1) International Travel

(i) As used herein, the term "international travel" means travel to all countries other than those within the home country of the traveler. Travel outside the United States includes travel to the U.S. Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands.

(ii) The grantee will be reimbursed for travel and the reasonable cost of subsistence, post differentials and other allowances paid to employees in an international travel status in accordance with the grantee's established policies and practices which are uniformly applied to federally financed and other activities of the grantee. The standard for determining the reasonableness of reimbursement for overseas allowance is the Standardized Regulations (Government Civilians, Foreign Areas), published by the U.S. Department of State, as from time to time amended. The most current subsistence, post differentials, and other allowances may be obtained from the grant officer.

(m) This provision will be included in all subgrants and contracts which require air travel and transportation under this grant.

9. OCEAN SHIPMENT OF GOODS (OCTOBER 1984)

(This provision is applicable when goods purchased with funds provided under this grant are transported to cooperating countries on ocean vessels).

(a) At least 50% of the gross tonnage of all goods purchased under this grant and transported to the cooperating countries shall be made on privately owned U.S. flag commercial ocean vessels, to the extent such vessels are available at fair and reasonable rates for such vessels.

(b) At least 50% of the gross freight revenue generated by shipments of goods purchased under this grant and transported to the cooperating countries on dry cargo liners shall be paid to or for the benefit of privately owned U.S. flag commercial ocean vessels to the extent such vessels are available at fair and reasonable rates for such vessels.

(c) When U.S. flag vessels are not available, or their use would result in a significant delay, the grantee may request a determination of non-availability from the AID Transportation Support Division, Office of Commodity Management, Washington, D.C. 20523, giving the basis for the request which will relieve the grantee of the requirement to use U.S. flag vessels for the amount of tonnage included in the determination. Shipments made on non-free world ocean vessels are not reimbursable under this grant.

(d) Vouchers submitted for reimbursement which include ocean shipment costs shall contain a certification essentially as follows:

"I hereby certify that a copy of each ocean bill of lading concerned has been submitted to the U.S. Department of Transportation, Maritime Administration, Division of National Cargo, 400 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590, and that such bills of lading state all of the carrier's charges including the basis for calculation such as weight or cubic measurement."

(e) Shipments by voluntary nonprofit relief agencies (i.e., PVOs) shall be governed by this standard provision and by AID Regulation 2, "Overseas Shipments of Supplies by Voluntary Nonprofit Relief Agencies (22 CFR 202).

The disclosure to AID shall be in the form of a written report and shall identify the agreement under which the invention was made and the inventor(s). It shall be sufficiently complete in technical detail to convey a clear understanding, to the extent known at the time of the disclosure, of the nature, purpose, operation, and physical, chemical, biological or electrical characteristics of the invention. The disclosure shall also identify any publications, on sale or public use of the invention and whether a manuscript describing the invention has been submitted for publication and, if so, whether it has been accepted for publication at the time of disclosure. In addition, after disclosure to AID the recipient shall promptly notify AID of the acceptance of any manuscript describing the invention for publication or of any on sale or public use planned by the recipient.

(2) The recipient shall elect in writing whether or not to retain title to any such invention by notifying AID within twelve months of disclosure to the recipient, provided that in any case where publication, on sale, or public use has initiated the one-year statutory period wherein valid patent protection can still be obtained in the United States, the period of election of title may be shortened by AID to a date that is no more than 60 days prior to the end of the statutory period.

(3) The recipient shall file its initial patent application on an elected invention within two years after election or, if earlier, prior to the end of any statutory period wherein valid patent protection can be obtained in the United States after a publication, on sale, or public use. The recipient shall file patent applications in additional countries within either ten months of the corresponding initial patent application or six months from the date permission is granted by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to file foreign patent applications where such filing has been prohibited by a Secrecy Order.

(4) Requests for extension of the time for disclosure to AID, election, and filing may, at the discretion of AID be granted.

1. Conditions When the Government May Obtain Title.

The recipient shall convey to AID upon written request, title to any subject invention:

(1) If the recipient fails to disclose or elect the subject invention within the times specified in c. above, or elects not to retain title. AID may only request title within sixty days after learning of the recipient's failure to report or elect within the specified times.

(2) In those countries in which the recipient fails to file patent applications within the times specified in c. above; provided, however, that if the recipient has filed a patent application in a country after the times specified in c. above, but prior to its receipt of the written request of AID the recipient shall continue to retain title in that country.

(3) In any country in which the recipient decides not to continue the prosecution of any application for, to pay the maintenance fees on, or defend in reexamination or opposition proceedings, on, a patent on a subject invention.

e. Waiver Rights to Recipient.

(1) The recipient shall retain a non-exclusive, royalty-free license throughout the world in each subject invention to which the Government obtains title except if the recipient fails to disclose the subject invention within the times specified in c. above. The recipient's license extends to its domestic subsidiaries and affiliates, if any, within the corporate structure of which the recipient is a party and includes the right to grant sublicenses of the same scope to the extent the recipient was legally obligated to do so at the time the agreement was awarded. The license is transferable only with the approval of AID except when transferred to the successor of that party of the recipient's business to which the invention pertains.

(2) The recipient's domestic license may be revoked or modified by AID to the extent necessary to achieve expeditious practical application of the subject invention pursuant to an application for an exclusive license submitted in accordance with applicable provisions in the Federal Property Management Regulations and agency licensing regulations (if any). This license shall not be revoked in that field of use or the geographical areas in which the recipient has achieved practical application and continues to make the benefits of the invention reasonably accessible to the public. The license in any foreign country may be revoked or modified at the discretion of AID to the extent the recipient, its licensee, or its domestic subsidiaries or affiliates have failed to achieve practical application in that foreign country.

(3) Before revocation or modification of the license, AID shall furnish the recipient written notice of its intention to revoke or modify the license, and the recipient shall be allowed thirty days (or such other time as may be authorized by AID for good cause shown by the recipient) after the notice to show cause why the license should not be revoked or modified. The recipient has the right to appeal, in accordance with applicable agency licensing regulations (if any) and the Federal Property Management Regulations concerning the licensing of Government-owned inventions, any decision concerning the revocation or modification of its license.

f. Recipient Action to Protect the Government's Interests.

(1) The recipient agrees to execute or to have executed and promptly deliver to AID all instruments necessary to (i) establish or conform the rights the Government has throughout the world in those subject inventions to which the recipient elects to retain title, and (ii) convey title to AID when requested under paragraph d. above, and to enable the Government to obtain patent protection throughout the world in that subject invention.

(2) The recipient agrees to require, by written agreement, its employees, other than clerical and nontechnical employees, to disclose promptly in writing to personnel identified as responsible for the administration of patent matters and in a format suggested by the recipient each subject invention made under agreement in order that the recipient can comply with the disclosure provisions of paragraph c. above, and to execute all papers necessary to file patent applications on subject inventions and to establish the Government's rights in the subject inventions. This disclosure format should require, as a minimum, the information required by c. (1) above. The recipient shall instruct such employees through employee agreements or other suitable educational programs on the importance of reporting inventions in sufficient time to permit the filing of patent applications prior to U.S. or foreign statutory bars.

(3) The recipient shall notify AID of any decision not to continue the prosecution of a patent application, pay maintenance fees, or defend in a reexamination or opposition proceeding on a patent, in any country, not less than 30 days before the expiration of the response period required by the relevant patent office.

(4) The recipient agrees to include, within the specification of any United States patent application and any patent issuing thereon covering a subject invention, the following statement: "This invention was made with Government support under (identify the agreement awarded by AID). The Government has certain rights in this invention."

g. Subagreements and Contracts.

The recipient shall include this clause suitably modified to identify the parties, in all subagreements and contracts, regardless of tier, for experimental, developmental, or research work to be performed by a small business firm or nonprofit organization. The subrecipient or contractor shall retain all rights provided for the recipient in this clause, and the recipient shall not, as part of the consideration for awarding the contract or subagreement obtain rights in the contractor's or subrecipient's subject inventions.

h. Reporting Utilization of Subject Inventions.

The recipient agrees to submit on request periodic reports no more frequently than annually on the utilization of a subject invention or on efforts at obtaining such utilization that are being made by the recipient or its licensees or assignees. Such reports shall include information regarding the status of development, date of first commercial sale or use, gross royalties received by the recipient, and such other data and information as AID may reasonably specify. The recipient also agrees to provide additional reports as may be requested by AID in connection with any march-in proceedings undertaken by AID in accordance with paragraph j. of this provision. To the extent data or information supplied under this section is considered by the recipient, its licensee or assignee to be privileged and confidential and is so marked, AID agrees that, to the extent permitted by law, it shall not disclose such information to persons outside the Government.

i. Preference for United States Industry.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this clause, the recipient agrees that neither it nor any assignee will grant to any person the exclusive right to use or sell any subject invention in the United States unless such person agrees that any products embodying the subject invention shall be manufactured substantially in the United States. However, in individual cases, the requirement for such an agreement may be waived by AID upon a showing by the recipient or its assignee that reasonable but unsuccessful efforts have been made to grant licenses on similar terms to potential licensees that would be likely to manufacture substantially in the United States or that under the circumstances domestic manufacture is not commercially feasible.

j. March-in Rights.

The recipient agrees that with respect to any subject invention in which it has acquired title, AID has the right in accordance with the procedures in OMB Circular A-119 to require the recipient, an assignee or exclusive licensee of a subject invention to grant a non-exclusive, partially exclusive, or exclusive license in any field of use to a responsible applicant or applicants, upon terms that are reasonable under the circumstances, and if the recipient, assignee, or exclusive licensee refuses such a request, AID has the right to grant such a license itself if AID determines that:

(1) Such action is necessary because the recipient or assignee has not taken or is not expected to take within a reasonable time, effective steps to achieve practical application of the subject invention in such field of use;

(2) Such action is necessary to alleviate health or safety needs which are not reasonably satisfied by the recipient, assignee, or their licensees;

(3) Such action is necessary to meet requirements for public use specified by Federal regulations and such requirements are not reasonably satisfied by the recipient, assignee, or licensees; or

(4) Such action is necessary because the agreement required by paragraph i. of this clause has not been obtained or waived or because a licensee of the exclusive right to use or sell any subject invention in the United States is in breach of such agreement.

k. Special Provisions for Agreements with Nonprofit Organizations.

If the recipient is a nonprofit organization, it agrees that:

(1) Rights to a subject invention in the United States may not be assigned without the approval of AID, except where such assignment is made to an organization which has as one of its primary functions the management of inventions and which is not, itself, engaged in or does not hold a substantial interest in other organizations engaged in the manufacture or sale of products or the use of processes that might utilize the invention or be in competition with embodiments of the invention (provided that such assignee shall be subject to the same provisions as the recipient).

(2) The recipient may not grant exclusive licenses under the United States patents or patent applications in subject inventions to persons other than small business firms for a period in excess of the earlier of:

(ii) Eight years from the date of the exclusive license excepting that time before regulatory agencies necessary to obtain premarket clearance, unless on a case-by-case basis, AID approves a longer exclusive license. If exclusive field of use licenses are granted, commercial sale or use in one field of use shall not be deemed commercial sale or use as to other fields of use and a first commercial sale or use with respect to a product of the invention shall not be deemed to end the exclusive period to different subsequent products covered by the invention.

(3) The recipient shall share royalties collected on a subject invention with the inventor; and

(4) The balance of any royalties or income earned by the recipient with respect to subject inventions, after payment of expenses (including payments to inventors) incidental to the administration of subject inventions, shall be utilized for the support of scientific research or education.

Communications concerning this provision shall be addressed to the grant officer at the address shown on the face of this agreement.
