James B. Carey, Secretary-treasurer of the CIO, has been serving on the twelve-member Public Advisory Board appointed by President Truman to advise on management of the European Recovery Program since its inception in June 1948.

Carey attended the Drexel Institute and Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania. He holds an honorary LLD degree from Rollins College.

As a member of the Public Advisory Board, Carey has brought to ECA his experience of many years in the labor field.

He led in organizing the Philco local union of Radio Workers in 1933 and was elected Vice president of the Philadelphia Central Labor Union in the same year. He also played the leading part in the formation of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America and became General President in 1936, serving until 1941. When the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union was expelled by the CIO in 1949, Carey, as Administrative Chairman, led the formation of the new International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers - CIO. He has been Secretary - treasurer of the CIO since November 1938.

At the beginning of the war, 1941, Carey was appointed as member of the Production Planning Board, Office of Production Management,
Carey has served as a member of CIO committee groups including Committee to Abolish Racial Discrimination, Health and Welfare Committee, Veterans Committee, Committee on Unemployment and Legislative Committee. He was associate member of the National Defense Mediation Board; Trustee, National Conference of Christians and Jews; member, Executive Committee, National Religious and Labor Foundation; and member of the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

Wesley W. Cook, Chief of the Labor Division, ECA Mission to Austria, received his BA and MA degrees from Northwestern University. He also attended Garrett Institute in Evanston, Ill., and engaged in research studies in Berlin and Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany.

During 1932 and 1933, Cook did relief work in the city of Philadelphia, and was later with the Federal Transient Bureau in that city.

Various research and survey assignments were conducted by Cook as a member of the Works Progress Administration, staff.

A member of the CIO Textile Workers' Union of America, Cook was appointed to his present post in January, 1949.
Elmer F. Cope, International Representative of the CIO, was graduated from Swarthmore College and received his MA degree from Western Reserve University.

He began work in the steel mills at the age of 13. In 1936 he joined the United Steel Workers of America—CIO, and served on the staff organization committee, continuing work with that group in various capacities until 1944 when he became CIO representative.

Cope served on the CIO Wage Research Committee in 1946, and in May 1947 became Assistant General Secretary of the World Federation of Trade Unions. In January 1949 he was elected European Representative, CIO, and participated in the preparatory work of the organization of the new International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.
John Franklin Correll, Labor Attaché, American Embassy in Athens, Greece, was appointed to this post in December 1948, after serving three years in a similar position in the Union of South Africa.

Correll received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, and has done graduate work at Ashland College, Ohio, University of Chicago, Kent University, Ohio, and American University, Washington, D.C.

He has been a leader in community and civic organizations, including the Parent-Teacher Association and the chairmanship of the Sesqui-centennial celebration of Northwest Territory Ordinance for Richland County, among many others.

Correll has been active in workers' education. He was appointed as educational adviser, Delano Lodge, United Steel Workers of America-CIO, in 1937, and continued this work until 1940. He served as a member of the Board of Trustees, Richland County Federation of Labor (AFofL) in 1942. He also belongs to the Mansfield Local, American Federation of Teachers, and was elected president of this group in 1942.
He spent a number of years prior to World War II in the education field, teaching social sciences in the Mansfield, Ohio, public schools from 1928 to 1943.

Correll's governmental career includes two years with the War Production Board as Joint Representative, Office of Manpower Requirements, and of Office of Labor Production on the Orders Clearance Committee (1943-1945).

Lemuel Graves, Jr., assumed the position of Labor Information Specialist in the Office of Labor Information, ECA/OSR, in December, 1949.

Graves attended the Raleigh, N.C., public schools, and graduated from St. Augustine's College in Raleigh in 1934. He became a reporter on The Caroline Tribune, Raleigh, and went from there to the Norfolk Journal and Guide, where he spent twelve years. A member of the American Newspaper Guild-CIO, he was one of the organizers of the Guild unit in Norfolk. During the war he served as the paper's war correspondent in the North African, Italian and European theatres.

Graves has been Washington correspondent for the Pittsburgh Courier for the past four years, and is on leave of absence.
John E. Gross, Chief of the ECA Mission to Norway, assumed that position in May 1949 after having served as Chief of the Labor Division in the Mission from October 1948.

Gross has had a long labor career, beginning with an apprenticeship in the machinist trade in Pueblo, Colo., in 1908. He joined the International Association of Machinists, Local Lodge 13, in 1910.

From 1910 to 1914, Gross was a delegate to the Pueblo Trades and Labor Assembly (AFoF City Central Body), serving on organization, mediation and arbitration, and worker education committees as well as in the executive positions of vice-president and president during the four-year period.

As a journeyman machinist from 1914 to 1917, Gross gained experience in steel mills, railroad shops, contract shops and manufacturers' shops, and represented local unions in city central bodies and state federations of labor conventions.

In 1917 Gross was elected president of Local 13, Pueblo. He was chairman of the Union Labor Group of the Employee Representatives under the Rockefeller Plan and chairman of the Negotiation Committee of AFoF unions with the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company prior to the nationwide steel strike which began in September 1919. From 1919 to 1922, Gross was vice-president of the Colorado State Federation of Labor. Later he held the positions of secretary-treasurer and president. He was elected to the General Laws Committee of the International Association of Machinists in 1932 and 1936.

From 1937 to 1941 he was regional representative of the Bureau of Employment Security, and later became regional director for the War Manpower Commission, serving during the war years.

Gross belongs to the American Federation of Government Employees-AFofL. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.
Michael S. Harris, Chief of the ECA Mission to Sweden, assumed that position after serving eight months as Chief of the Labor Division in the Mission to France.

Harris received his education in the public schools of Philadelphia, and in 1935-36 attended Brookwood Labor College.

He joined the United Steel Workers of America-CIO in October, 1937. During 1943-44 he was president of the Philadelphia Industrial Unions Council.

Harris has been active in many public activities, including Workers' Defense League and Mayor's Committee on Racial Relations in Philadelphia, advisory committee, Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs; and Citizens Committee of Temple University. He served in the US Army during the war.

Harris was appointed Chief of the Labor Division of the French Mission in October 1948, and became Mission Chief in Sweden in June 1949.
